FLOODS CLAIM LIVES

Distressing State of Affairs Reported From Spain.

30,000 THROWN OUT OF WORK

Village Has Been Terribly Ravaged. Waters Have Washed Out Countless Coffins and Bodies from the Local Cemetery.

Barcelona, Oct. 16.—The flood situation in this vicinity is most serious.

Up to the present time five persons have been drowned and 30,000 thrown out of work. The greatest distress is reported from Manresa, the birthplace of St. Ignatius, the founder of Society of Jesuit. The village has been terribly ravaged and the waters have washed out countless coffins and bodies from the local cemetery.

The Guadalmedina river is out of its banks and in this district several old people and children have been drowned.

$30,000,000 WILL CONTEST.

Heirs of Nelson Morris Will Receive $6,000,000 Cash.

Chicago, Oct. 16—The Tribune says that a thirty million dollar will contest that was argued and settled out of court was disclosed when the last testament of Nelson Morris, the packer, was filed for probate.

As a result of this remarkable situation the principal provision of the will has been nullified. Instead of carrying out an arrangement which would have held the bulk of the estate in trust for at least 15 years the widow and her four chaldren will divide the property equally among themselves at once. Insead of $500,000 and an annuity of $15,000 during the next 20 years each, the five principal heirs will receive at once $6,000,000 cash and securities.

Ever since Nelson Morris died nearly two months ago a strenuous though friendly debate over his will has been going on in the family. On one side, seeking to abrogate the trust plan under which they would not have come into their inheritance for from 15 to 20 years, were ranged the widow and three of the children—Mrs. Maurice L. Rothschild, Mrs. Henry C. Schwab and Ira Nelson Morris; on the other side seeking to carry out the provisions of the will under which he would have been in control of the estate, stood Edward Morris, the oldest son and the present head of the Morris Packing corporations. It was simply a case of divergence of opinion.

Finally Edward Morris met the views of the rest of the family and an amicable agreement, setting aside the trust plan and providing for an equal division of the property was signed.

NEW MAYOR INSTALLED.

Remarkable Demonstration at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Chattanooga, Tenn, Oct. 17.—Colonel W. R. Crabtree, newly elected mayor of Chattanooga, was formally inaugurater Monday night with one of the most remarkable demonstrations of the kind in the history of the city.

The crowd assembled to honor the incoming official taxed the council chambers and floral decorations were in lavish profusion. According to hte doctrine the new mayor advanced in his inaugural he will be in his office much of the time and he declared the people are entitled to the executive service of their officials. He denounced the bribe giver as equally criminal with the bribe receiver. He succeeds William L. Frierson, wao held the office two years.

Editor Appointed Sheriff.

Montgomery, Ala, Oct. 16.—Horace Hood, editor and part owner of the Montgomery Journal, and one of the oldest editors of the Alabama press, has been appoluted sheriff of Montgomery county, one of tae best paying places in the state. Mr. Hood has edited newspapers in Montgomery for many years and is well known in every section of the south. He is one of the Bryan leaders of the south.

SHOT WOMAN AS SHE FLED.

Story of New York's Under World Has Tragic Denouement in Schenectady.

Schnectady, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Suddenly coming upon a woman in a resort here with whom he had lived in New York for three years, a man whose identity is unknown, drew a revolver and, as she turned to flee, shot her in the back, almost instantly killing her.

The victim, who was known as Pearl Harris, had scarcely breathed her last when Chief of Police Rynex, Detective Fuller and Patrolman Ragucci, came upon the murderer in the back room of a saloon. Before they could lay hands on or cover him, he shot Ragucci through the abdomen, and throwing his pistol in the face of Chief Rynex, who was in the act of drawing his revolver, dashed into the barroom. There he grabbed a bottle and fought his way out to the street.

Leaving Detective Cutler to care for Ragucci, Chief Rynex started after the fugitive and chased him into a lumber yard, where he disappeared.

The man has been in the city only a few days, and is known here by the name of "Curly." He was well dressed and seemed to have plenty of money. He has been hanging about the red light district spending money lavishly.

The woman was formerly an actress and lived with a man in New York who, from the description she gave to her acquaintances, is believed to be her slayer.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Bill to Establish Provinces is Defeated by the Laity.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 16.—The principal event that occurred Monday in the Episcopal convention was the defeat of the so-called archbishop or provinces bill, which has been holding the attention of the house of bishops and the house of deputies for the past two days. The house of bishops passed the measure and the clergy were overwhelmingl yin favor of it. The laity, however, defeated the measure by a nonconcurrence.

At a joint meeting of the bishops and the deputies, the bishop of Mississippi and the bishop of Georgia spoke on the negro question, both contending that the work among the negroes in the southern states had advanced rapidly within the last ten years, and both making earnest pleas that the church continue the work.

The Rt. Rev. Samuel Ferguson, bishop of Cape Palmas, the only negro sitting in either house of the convention, also spoke and made an excellent impression, especially the delegates from the southern states.

The Rev. Dr. Wilkins, of Los Angeles, had passed a resolution forming a commission of ten bishops, fifteen clergymen and twenty laymen to raise a fund of $5,000,000 for the relief of disabled clergy.

Killed on First Auto Ride.

Morenci, Mich., Oct. 16.—Arthur Onweller, a merchant of Lyons, O., bought a new automobile, and was taking his first ride in it with his wife and two children. While driving at fair speed he lost control of the car and it ran into a deep ditch five miles east of here, turning turtle, and crushing him to death beneath it. Mrs. Onweller and one of the children, a boy, were seriously hurt. The boy was internally injured and has a broken arm.

Hon. Campbell Slemp Dead.

Big Stone Gap, Va., Oct. 16—Hon. Campbell Slemp, member of congress from the ninth district of Virginia, died early Sunday morning of angina pectoris. He was the only republican member of the Virginia delegation in congress.

College Student Killed.

Hamilton, O., Oct. 16.—J. S. Emerson, of Bellefontaine, Ohio, a student at Miami university, was killed and Donald Haven was cut and bruised when an electric car struck an automobile in which they were riding.

Niece of Tilden Suicides.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Detroit, Mich., says: "The body of Mrs. W. F. Turner, a niece of the late Samuel J. Tilden, was taken from the river here Monday. She had committed suicide.

SENSATIONAL STORY

Mother and Son Believed to Have Been Highway Robbers.

ARE ARRESTED BY POLICE

Officers Say They Have Evidence to Show that Mrs. Georgia Wren and Her Son Have Been Principals in Several Recent Hold Ups.

Natalbany, La., Oct. 16.—In the arrest near here of Mrs. Georgia Wren and her young son, Charles, the Tangipahoa parish authorities allege that they have two highwaymen who have been terrorizing the people of this section of the state for some time. Hold-ups have been frequent and suspicion pointed to the Wrens, who have been principals in more than one gun fight.

Mrs. Wren is a crack rifle and revolver shot and when Deputy Sheriff A. T. Watson attempted to make the arrest she reached for her rifle. The officer was too quick for her, though, and got the drop on her, while other officers covered her son with their revolvers. Mother and son are now in the parish prison at Amite City, where they were taken by the posse.

After the arrest, a man who was held up while riding a bicycle along one of the parish roads, helped identify the couple as the parties who had him to dismount at the point of a rifle and turn over all the money he had on him, amounting to about $15.

The Wrens are well known in New Orleans where they spent several weeks in a hospital as a result of a fight with officers in this parish.

BURGLARS LOOT SAFES.

Several Georgia Towns Visited by Professional Cracksmen.

Americus, Ga., Oct. 16.—Professional cracksmen, who have recently been operating in southwestern Georgia towns, Monday morning burglarized two stores at De Soto and another at Cobb, small towns near the city of Americus.

Safes were dynamited and hundreds of dollars secured, while hundreds checks and postoffice orders were scattered broadcast.

Six hundred dollars were taken from the safe of Esten Howe, at De Soto, his safe being blown into fragments. The losses of Eugene Moore and Jesse Hill, whose safes were likewise dynamited, were nominal, little being secured at either store.

Residents of De Soto heard the explosion about daylight, but supposed it was railroad employees using torpedoes to signal a train.

The burglars made good their escape with their booty.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

Believed that the Fontenac Powder Mills Blew Up.

Brazil, Ind., Oct. 16.—Three distinct explosions were heard Tuesday from the direction of the Fontenac Powder mills, 15 miles away.

Many windows were shattered in the business and residential districts. All plate glass windows in the Citizens' bank building were destroyed. It was reported here that the powder house and two mills of the Dupont Powder company at Fontenac had blown up and that from 25 to 100 persons had been killed.

All communication with Fontenac is cut off by wire and persons in automobiles left at once to render any possible assistance.

Fontenac is a mining town of a few hundred inhabitants, situated on the Big Four railroad 18 miles east of Terre Haute and 65 miles west of Indianapolis.

Savannah, Ga., Has Costly Fire.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 16—At 1:50 a. m. Monday a rapid fire destroyed the hardware stock of H. H. Peebles & Sons, 125 Congress street, west. The loss is estimated at $70,000; $60,000 on stock and $10,000 on the building, both well insured. The surrounding property was in grave danger. No explanation of the origin of the fire can be secured.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT.

Four Persons Killed in Pennsylvania at a Grade Crossing.

Pottstown, Pa., Oct. 16.—As a result of a grade crossing automobile accident on the Philadelphia and Reading railway, at Kelm street, here Monday night four persons were killed and one probably fatally injured. The automobile which was run down on the crossing by a Pottsville express, contained a party of five persons from Kimberton, Chester county, Pennsylvania. The dead are::

Jacob Reese, aged 55 yeyars.

Mrs. Jacob Reese, aged 48 years.

Mrs. Anthony W. Emery, Jr., aged 42 years.

Belva Emery, aged one year, child of Mrs Emery.

Antaony W. Emery, Jr., owner and driver of the automobile, was the only one of the party to escape death, and his thigh was broken, and he received internal injuries in the accident.

The party were on their way home from a shopping tour in this city when the accident occurred.

A hedge and a clump of trees, together with a couple of buildings, partly obscured the crossing, and it is probable Mr. Emery did not know a train was due, for he drove the machine directly on the track in front of the express.

The automobile was broken into bits and the members of the party were hurled out of the machine. Mr. Reese and Mrs. Emery were killed instantly. Mrs. Reese's neck was broken and she died on the train while being brought to this city. The child died shortly after the mother.

Mrs. Reese and Mrs. Emery were sisters, and by the accident almost an entire family was wiped out.

NOT HOSTILE TO RAILROADS.

President Finley Makes Statement to Stockholders of Southern.

New York, Oct. 16.—That the south is not hostile to railroads is one of the declarations appearing in President W. W. Finley's statement to the stockholders of the Southern railway, a portion of the report of which for the year ending June 30 last has just been made public.

In fact, President Finley says, there is a growing feeling among shippers and travelers in that part of the country in favor of a resonable treatment of railroad enterprises. The statement then cites as an indication of the rapid industrial xpansion of the south that last year no fewer than 860 new plants of various sorts were installed along the Southern railroad lines and that the capacities of many older plants were enlarged.

May Be Great Railway Strike.

London, Oct. 16.—Richard Bell, a member of parliament, general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, announced that the railway companies had sent an unfavorable reply to the society's demand for the recognition of the unions. The ballots so far received from the men in the vote being taken throughout the United Kingdom on the advisability of declaring a general strike in order to secure recognition of their organization was largely in favor of a general strike. The voting will be concluded on Oct. 26.

Dynamite Suspects Arrested.

Joplin, Mo., Oct. 16.—Five presons suspected of being the parties who dynamited the Joplin News-Hreald plant on the night of Sept. 13, were arrested early Tuesday morning. They are Minnie St. Clair, Charles Smith, W. S. Martin, Bessie Beam and Hazel Ray, alias Hazel Red. Minnie St. Claire formerly conducted a resort in this city and all of those who were arrested are well known in police circles.

Stricken by Death in Court.

Fitzgerald, Ga., Oct. 16.—James R. Green, who was the prosecuting witness in the case of the state against Hall, for burglarizing Green's house, was stricken by apoplexy while the case was on trial Monday afternoon before Judge Whipple, of Ben Hill superior court, and fell to the floor, dying in less than a minute. Mr. Green was an aged veteran of the late war, and lived a short distance out of the city.

16 PERSONS KILLED

Disastrous Railway Wreck at Shrewsbury, Eng.

CLAIM DISREGARD OF ORDERS

In Darkness and Pouring Rain Train Left Track Rails, Piling the Cars In a Tangled Mass of Wreckage—Did Not Catch on Fire.

Shrewsbury, England, Oct. 17—A train made up of passenger coaches bound from Scotland and the north of England to Bristol left the rails as it was entering the station here at an early hour Tuesday morning.

Sixteen persons, including two postal passengers, were killed and many others were injured.

The London and Northwestern railroad, on which the train was running, curves sharply as it nears Shrewsbury and there is a standing order that all engineers must not exceed a speed of ten miles an hour at that point. Disregard of the order is believed to have been the cause of the accident. The engine and all cars with the exception of the last one left the rails and when the officials from the railroad station reached the spot they were a tangled mass of wreckage beneath which were the bodies of the dead and injured.

Fortunately, the wreck did not catch fire and the doctors and salvage crew which reached the scene, did not have this added danger to fight in the darkness and pouring rain, which, however, retarded the work of rescue and several hours elapsed before the last body was taken out of the wreck.

The killed included the engineer and fireman and the guards and postal clerks who were in the mail car immediately behind the engine.

PROHI'S WIN VICTORY.

Majority For Prohibition In Several Alabama Towns.

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 16.—In the election in Lee county, Alabama, on Monday the prohibitionists won by an overwhelming majority. Every beat in the ticket voted for prohibition with the possible exception of one rather isolated beat with a small vote.

The total majority for prohibition is estimated to be between 800 and 900. Opelika, the largest beat in the county, cast 376 votes for prohibition to 76 against. Phoenix City was carried by the prohibitionists by 3 to 56.

In Phenix City the ladies served lunches and gave a parade, in which many children took part, and the flag waving and singing of songs were prominent features of the day.

Body of Boy Torn to Bits.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 16.—Scattered along the Atlantic Coast Line track for a distance of 50 yards, the remains of Walter Lee Langston were Monday morning picked up and placed in a basket to be taken to an undertaking establishment. Just how the boy came to his death is not known. He left home presumably to go to the circus grounds. He was never seen alive after that time. Whether he was killed and placed on the track or was run over by a freight train will never be known, though it is supposed that the latter theory is more correct.

He Swallowed Laudanum.

Arkansas City, Kans., Oct. 16—A. D. Davidson, an oil contractor well known in the southwest, was found dead in his room in a local hotel early Monday. He had swallowed laudanum with suicidal intent and left a note saying he was in financial straits and believed his mind was failing. Davidson was 36 years of age and left a family.

Three Tramps Killed.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 16—Three tramps, who were stealing a ride were instantly killed in a freight wreck near Campobello, 10 miles from Spartanburg. The accident was caused by a derailment, and fifteen cars were piled up in the wreckage. None of the train crew was injured.

MONEY EXHAUSTED; WORK IS STOPPED

Contractor Beeman Has Stopped Work on Lateral Sewers.

FORCE OF MEN IS NOW IDLE

Contractor Beeman, Observing That There Were No Available Funds at Present, Ordered Force off the Job. A Complicated Situation.

Because of the fact that there is nothing financially in sight to carry out the terms of the contract, work has been temporarily suspended in the laying of the lateral connections for the sewers, and work is now at a standstill for an indefinite period—at least until Contractor Beeman is assured in a substantial manner that his money will be forthcoming from time to time, as the work is completed.

Contractor Beeman, in speaking of the matter Wednesday, stated that he was compelled to lay off a large force of men whom he had employed on the work. "The pay-roll is a big one," he added, "and I cannot afford to keep these men on good salaries and advance the money to pay them off each week without a reasonable assurance that I am going to be compensated in obedience to the contract as made with the Board of Public Works. As soon as this assurance is given me, and I can see something in sight, I will put a gang back on the job."

When the Board of Public Works let this contract for lateral sewerage connections there were only two bidders, and Mr. Beeman, who also installed the sewerage system, was the successful bidder, his estimate being between $6,000 and $7,000. The contract provided that the work was to be completed within six months from the time the contract was signed, but no question of possible financial embarassment was mentioned in the same. This places the whole affair in a rather embarassing situation, but Contractor Beeman maintains that he cannot afford to make further progress until reasonably assured of his money from time to time.

Thus stands the matter, the outcome of which will be awaited with interest.

A Painful Accident.

Harry Owens had the misfortune of an accident yesterday which caused the laceration of two fingers on one of his hands, and which will no doubt cause a great deal of inconvenience and pain for the next few days.

Harry was working with a mowing machine, when his fingers became entangled with the sharp knives, cutting same severely. With remarkable coolness, however, he had the wounded members dressed, and hopes in a few days to be all right again.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens nutrition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle

A ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

Two Popular Young People of Marion County Were Married Here.

There was rather a romantic marriage in this city Tuesday morning, which summoned Justice Colman from his warm couch at daylight, and which at least had the tendency to console a couple of young people, the Justice sending them away as man and wife.

J. J. Leitner, a young man who resides near Ocala, and Miss Della A. McCollough, also of that section, traveled all night for the purpose of marriage. Report says that they visited several places in an endeavor to find an officer authorized to tie the nuptial knot, but were unsuccessful until they reached Gainesville, where they secured a license and sought the services of Justice Colman.

The contracting parties are well-known and popular in Marion county, where they have made their home for years. It is not known that there was any particular objection to their union, but with a desire to have the same come off with a slight tinge of romance, this action was taken.

NEWBERRY NOTES.

Newberry, Oct. 16.—Miss Belle Hunt of Valdosta, Ga., is here, guest of Mrs. H. C. Collins.

Mrs. Lillie Kitchen, accompanied by her daughter, Minnie, visited Archer Thursday, returning Monday.

Mrs. S. P. Getsen is visiting friends in Fort White this week.

We are sorry to report Jack Garland on our sick list this week. His friends hope to see him out again soon.

Misses Lizzie and Cena Hamilton, and brother John, accompanied by Miss Clem Pickett, all of Jonesville, attended church here Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanzant and daughter, Georgia, spent Sunday at Dutton, guests of relatives.

After a few days' visit here to his parents, Bedford Wetherington left Sunday for Hernando.

Mrs. W. H. Tucker is confined to her home with lagrippe. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

MICANOPY NOTES.

Micanopy, Oct. 16.—Grover Alison of Citra is here on a visit to his brother, J. H. Alison and sister, Mrs. C. E. Melton.

C. H. McAllister of Irvine is in town on business.

Our school is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Sue D. Feaster will be at home in a few days. She has been off on a summer trip, taking in Washington, Jamestown, Lynchburg and other places of interest.

The new hotel when completed will be up-to-date and will be a credit to our town.

Oranges and grapefruit are moving from this section.

W. R. Abstein of Island Grove is in town and it is said he intends to make his home here. He is a nice young man and we are glad to welcome good people in our midst.

DEATH OF DR. WALKUP.

Well-Known and Prominent Citizen of McIntosh Passed Away.

Information has reached this city of the death of Dr. H. C. Walkup of McIntosh, which occurred suddenly Wednesday night.

Deceased was apparently in his usual good health upon retiring Tuesday night, but about midnight was awakened with a pain, expiring a few moments afterward.

Deceased was about sixty-five years of age, a native of Virginia, and served in the Confederate army with galantry. He moved to Florida many years ago, however, since which time he has been engaged in his profession and as a druggist at McIntosh.

Deceased was a devout Christian, and few men in the church were more faithful workers for the cause of Christ. He has for years been an elder in the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Walkup is survived by a widow, two daughters and several sons, one of whom is attending a medical college in Baltimore. His sudden death has cast a gloom over the entire community.

The funeral will be held at McIntosh today.

NOLIE SLAUGHTER FREE.

Young Man Accused of Entering Postoffice Released on Bond.

Nolie Slaughter, a well-known young man of the West End who was arrested upon a charge of breaking and entering the United States postoffice building at Wannee a few days ago, has been released on bond, and yesterday returned to his home.

The evidence against young Slaughter must be of a rather flimsy nature, as no particular effort was made to hold him, the United States officers evidently being indifferent in the case.

AGED NEGRO DEAD.

Glascow Montgomery, Ninety-Six, Expired Suddenly at Kanapaha.

Kanapaha, Oct. 16.—Glascow Montgomery, colored, ninety-six years old, died suddenly at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was well and going about yesterday afternoon. He was brought to this section from South Carolina by the Hailes and belonged to a large family, most of whom were noted for longevity.

He has a brother living at Arredondo, Ephriam Montgomery, now 109 years old.

Deputy Mason Busy.

Deputy County Judge George Mason, who has charge of the office during the absence of his father, has been quite busy issuing marriage licenses recently, as has been noted in The Sun before.

Within the past two days Mr. Mason has issued licenses to wed to J. J. Leitner and Della A. McCollough, J. R. Bennefield and Bessie L. Robinson, white, and three colored.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Canthrarides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

ROOSEVELT AFTER THE THIRD TERM

Such is Opinion of Polititians Visiting Washington.

FUSION IN HEARST'S LEAGUE

It is Said That the League Will "Divide Up" in New York—Other Interesting Chat From the National Capital.

Special Correspondence The Daily Sun.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—The general opinion expressed by visiting politicians to this city, both Democrats and Republicans, is that President Roosevelt is scheming for a nomination for a third term. In this I do not agree with them, for I believe the President too truthful and too much of a man to go back on his pledge to the people and those Republican aspirants who desire to succeed him, which he voluntarily made on election night in 1904. It is quite possible that he would be pleased if the Republican convention should nominate him in spite of his repeated declaration to his friends that he declines to again be a candidate, for a refusal to accept "the crown" when offered would be unique in American politics, and almost in the world's history. The welcome that the President has received on his Southern trip means nothing as far as party politics is concerned, for Iowa and Illinois will give a Republican majority, and Missouri and the other Southern States will give a Democratic majority, whoever are the candidates. The people of the States bordering the Mississippi river and its tributaries are so anxious for the improvement of the rivers that they would greet anyone with enthusiasm who has influence to help the projected improvements. Not but what Theodore Roosevelt the man has many enthusiastic admirers, both Democrats and Republicans, and Theodore Roosevelt, the President, has a band of devoted adherents composed of partisan politicians who he has rewarded with Federal offices. These, of course, and their relatives and friends are ready at all times to shout for the dispenser of patronage with the hope of continuance and advancement to add to their zeal. Every President when invited to visit localities has met with similar ovations.

The reported fusion between Hearst's Independence League and the Republican machine of New York City on the legislative, county and city ticket is a surprise to the friends here of Mr. Hearst and Democrats generally. When Mr. Hearst gave out in his interview the other day that in future the Independence League would make its own nominations on the high moral ground that both the old parties are corrupt, people wondered what Mr. Hearst's intentions were politically. Yet now, at the first opportunity, we are told that the Republican managers and the league have agreed upon a division of the offices, and Mr. Hearst's political manager is to run as the candidate of both the league and the Republicans for one of the principal offices. When Mr. Hearst was the candidate for Governor of New York, the regular Democratic nominee, the Republicans could say nothing too bad about him, yet now they appear to be hand and glove with him. The staid old New York Tribune only approves the fusion of the Republican party with the league on the ground that "the end may justify the means" and that good may come of evil. The good being the chance of electing a few Republican officials and the evil it is presumed the association with Mr. Hearst and his satellites of the Independence League. Tammany is an angel of light compared to this unholy alliance and with good candidates all Democrats will hope to see the defeat of the Republican ring and the Hearst League, the only object seems to be to secure official position and disrupt the Democracy.

The most important Democratic news of the past week is the visit of John Sharpe Williams to this city and the announcement by his friends that more than half of his fellow-Congressmen, who are Democratic, have urged him to accept the party leadership again and have promised him their votes. There will be some complimentary votes for one or two others, but Mr. Williams will be re-elected, unless something unforseen occurs. He admirably fills the two Democratic requirements of honesty and ability, and is better equipped than any other man in the House today for the position of minority leader.

Presidential booms are still the topic of conversation wherever Democrats gather. Judge George Gray of Delaware is the latest that is receiving attention, and it is understood that prominent Democrats of Delaware will formally launch a movement for him in the near future. The Chanler boom is reported to be meeting with great encouragement in the South, but in what particular States is being concealed by its friends. Democrats from Virginia and West Virginia report that Senator Daniel will probably receive the vote of those States in the National convention, but no attempt is being made to induce other Southern States to fall in line.

The people of Texas, as reported by Samuel R. Perryman, of Houston, who was in the city the beginning of the week, "would like to see Senator Culberson nominated for the Presidency by the Democrats, but he has discouraged any use of his name as long as Mr. Bryan is a candidate. But if there is the slightest ground for believing that some other man than Bryan is favored Texas will go over bag and baggage to the supporters of Culberson." Mr. Perryman also declared that: "The prejudice against a Southern man for the Presidency is rapidly vanishing. There has been more talk this year about nominating a man below the Mason and Dixon line than at any time since the war, and this talk will increase year by year, until we shall nominate and elect such a man."

There is a decided movement in Ohio and elsewhere looking to the nomination of Judge Judson Harmon, but I do not look for any decisive steps in that direction until after the result of the elections in Cleveland and the other Ohio cities have been decided this fall. One of the most influential Democrats of the country declared to me a few days ago, that as a matter of party policy the Democratic candidate for President must be considered able to carry his own State, and that instead of a wealthy candidate for Vice-President an equally strong man should be nominated for second place who must also be able to put before the people with marked ability Democratic doctrines. But I told him his requirements would eliminate Mr. Bryan as the Democratic candidate for it is generally conceded that Nebraska is Republican. "It is all a question of availability," he said, "most of us would rejoice to see Mr. Bryan President of the United States; but what would it profit him to be defeated the third time? The success of the Democratic party is of more importance than the political fortunes of any man."

MELROSE NOTES.

Melrose, Oct. 16.—Quite an old landmark on the Bellamy road was wiped out by fire on Monday night, when the old Goodson house burned down. It was occupied by J. B. Lewis, colored, an industrious farmer, who, besides his furniture, lost a bale of cotton. His friends, both white and colored, are helping him generously to get a fresh start.

There seems to be a great prospect for many visitors this season, judging from the many letters received inquiring for hotel rates and furnished cottages. The first contingent of our regular winter residents is expected next Tuesday.

W. W. Wilkes has taken a position with A. A. McRae.

The many friends of the Mrs. O. D. Kent will regret to hear that they expect to leave for the North shortly on account of Mrs. Kent's health.

What is Causing the Increase of Catarrh in Gainesville?

In spite of the best efforts of medical men, catarrhal troubles are increasing not only in Gainesville, but all over the country.

Catarrh is a germ disease, and to cure it germ life in the breathing organs should be destroyed, and to do this no other treatment has such positive and beneficial action as Hyomei.

When the mucous membrane is irritated and raw and the tissues weakened, there is an ideal lodging place for catarrhal germs. Breathe Hyomei and see how quickly it soothes the membranes, vitalizes the tissues and destroys all the disease germs, rendering catarrh no longer possible.

There is no dangerous stomach drugging when Hyomei is used; no tablets or liquid mixtures destroying digestion.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomei outfit, the healing balsams penetrate to the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, destroying the catarrhal germs so that quick recovery follows.

J. W. McCollum & Co. agree to refund the money to any purchaser of Hyomei who does not find that it does all that is claimed for it. The complete outfit costs but $1.00.

Big Bear Killed Marked "T. R."

Black Duck, Minn., Oct. 16.—Had President Roosevelt come up here on his hunting trip he would have found a giant black bear waiting for him, with the initials "T. R." in white hair plainly showing on his right side. The bear was killed by Henry Savage, a homesteader. An examination showed that the bear had been through a fire in its infancy and that white hair had grown in where the original black hair had been burned off. The initials "T. R." are as perfect as though put there by a paint brush. Savage has refused $50 for the skin, which he will send to the president.

PICKERS SCARCE; COTTON ROTTING

Growers Offer from $1.25 to $1.75 for Gathering of Staple.

THE HIGHEST OFFER YET MADE

Laborers Refuse to Enter Cotton Fields, When Mills and Naval Stores Camps Offer More Money for Less Work—Situation Critical.

The farmers of the Sea Island cotton belt, irrespective of any particular locality, seem to be "up against it" good and hard this season. Notwithstanding that the crop is reported to be anywhere from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent short throughout the belt, the matter of gathering that of the plant which did mature is proving a difficult problem, according to the report of a number of growers.

Owing to the numerous naval stores and lumber plants in operation throughout this section of the country, all clamoring for labor and paying good wages, it has been a problem to secure pickers, and it was reported here Wednesday that growers are offering from $1.25 to $1.75 per hundred pounds for gathering the staple, and labor is scarce at that. In former years pickers have been accustomed to receive an average of seventy-five cents per hundred for their labor, last year the price going to $1, and in some very unusual instances $1.25 per hundred.

This condition of affairs is laid at the doors of the mill men and turpentine operators, as the growers declare they are responsible. However, these men are not to blame, as they are as badly in need of help as the cotton grower.

There should be no scarcity of pickers at the figures offered, however, as women and children, who are unfit for mill and turpentine work, make admirable cotton pickers. Nevertheless, it is the case that pickers are in demand, the staple in many instances is rusting and rotting in the boll, and the situation at present looks anything but favorable.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement,—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The greatest statesman this continent ever produced said: "If I work in marble, in time it will crumble. Some people just can't draw the boundary between eccentricity and insanity. Zola, the French novelist, passed whole weeks in the firm conviction that he was an idiot. And yet, while in this state of mind, he wrote his masterpieces. Oliver Holmes, our own American physician, poet, and essayist, was a prince in letters. And yet, as great as he was, he persisted in carrying a potato in one pocket and a horse chestnut in the other to keep off rheumatism.

No one who has not lived in Philadelphia can quite grasp the inner significance of its title—The City of Homes—says The Delineator for October. It is not a place of restaurants or numerous cafes where those who haven't homes take their meals. The people, rich and poor, do not live a hotel or a lodging-house life. It is a city of well-to-do neighborhoods, where local interest in each other is absorbing. Every man in town has his tidy little home, a flower bed or two, a front porch where he can sit and smoke his after-dinner pipe or cigar and talk church or politics, or the gossip of the block to his neighbor in the next porch. He and his children have a wonderful park, the largest in the world except the Prater in Vienna—better than any wooded estate that a Pennsylvania railroad magnate can own—where he can spend the day without expense. He has two great rivers to swim in, to sail on, to fish in, and when he saves a little money, he, too, like his richer brother, will get a spot in the country to call his own.

Washington is becoming aroused over the prospective destruction of several historic trees in the Botanical Gardens of the city. It seems that the commission appointed by Congress to select a site for the proposed memorial to Gen. Grant has selected a spot in the Botanical Gardens at present occupied by what is known as the Crittenden oak and the Beck elm, both grand trees, and of historic interest. Orders were given to fell the trees and work was about to begin when an injunction against the proposed destruction was secured. Speaker Cannon was appealed to, and he responded by telegraphing the acting secretary of war. Everybody connected with the business now seems to be up a tree, so to speak, and the outcome is doubtful. It is believed, however, if the trees can be saved until Congress meets their continued existence and preservation will be safeguarded.

Senator W. A. Clark, who has just arrived from a three months' tour of Europe, says that the financial depression which has been felt in the United States is world-wide, and he attributes the condition abroad to what he calls a decided lack of confidence in American securities. This lack of confidence has been brought on by the business scandals, the meat and insurance disclosures, and the New York traction scandal. When it comes down to the foreigners losing confidence in the stability of our business men, and they question our business methods, it is about time we cleaned house thoroughly, if we want to keep on getting our share of the world's trade.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

SHOULD BE MORE CAREFUL.

Should Not Marry Persons Who Show Evidence of Being Unsuited.

It will be generally conceded by fair-minded people that the divorce laws in many of the States of the Federal Union are bad, and, what is even worse, are often badly administered. It cannot be doubted that easy divorce is a menace to the family and that it threatens the disruption of the home, says The Delineator for October. It will, moreover, be generally agreed that something would be done toward checking the evil if young people were more scrupulously trained in respect to the solemn responsibilities of married life so that hasty and ill-advised unions might be avoided; and if ministers of religion were more careful not to lend their assistance to the formation of unions which they regard as improper. It needs no argument to show that many of the infelicities of married life would be patiently borne if the way to an annulment of the marriage were not known to be so easy, and that it would be better for society that a few should lead unhappy lives than that the sacredness of the family should be undermined by making legislative provision for a quick sundering of the marriage bond.

The latest introduction by the Department of Agriculture is the stingless bee. The new insects come from Asia Minor, and are known as Caucasian bees. Like all other bees they have stings, but their stinglessness lies in the fact that they are so peaceable they never use their stings except in cases of great emergency. The bee has been domesticated for many centuries. Apiaries may be placed on top of high office buildings and other places where the ordinary brand of bee would prove most unwelcome.

Nevertheless, it is the case that pickers are in demand, the staple in many instances is rusting and rotting in the boll, and the situation at present looks anything but favorable.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement,—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Textile Conference Meets.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 16.—The southern textile conference met at the state capitol here Monday morning for the purpose of discussing questions dealing with child and female labor in the shops and factories of the south. Delegates are here from Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina and other southern states. The delegates were welcomed by Governor Patterson.

FAIRBANKS TO SPEAK.

Vice President Will Soon Begin Extensive Speech-Making Tour.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 16.—Vice President Fairbanks will visit Sioux City, Iowa, Oct. 18, when he will be the guest of the Commercial club of that city.

Mr. Fairbanks will deliver an address at Morningside college and then speak at a banquet to be given by the Sioux City Commercial club on the evening of the 18th. On Oct. 19 he will speak at a public meeting to be held on the campus of the university of South Dakota, at Vermillion, S. D. On Oct. 22 he will visit Dallas, Tex., where he is to deliver an address at the state fair. On Oct. 25 and 26 he will cross Kentucky from Middleboro to Louisville by special train, under the auspices of the Kentucky Republican state committee, delivering political speeches at several points in the state.

Is a Son of a Barnsby Brewer.

London, Oct. 16.—Samuel Clarkson, the man who eloped with Helen Maloney, of Philadelphia, is believed here to be the son of a Barnsby brewer. He is 27 years of age and inherited about $300,000. Clarkson, a couple of years ago, figured in a suit against a stock exchange from a result of losses sustained by him amounting to $165,000. The suit was based upon alleged misrepresentation and breach of contract. The case was decided in his favor and he was awarded $65,000.

Is Louisiana faking the President with bear-less swamps?

The pure food law ought to make them state on the bottle how many headaches there are inside.

Harry Thaw has engaged as his lawyer the man who nominated Judge Parker; and everyone knows what happened to Parker.

Judge Parker can point to a number of men whose Presidential prospects blossomed and faded even more rapidly than his own.

If the copper magnates keep on grabbing land in the Northwest they might as well change the name of Alaska to Guggenheim.

A number of banqueting statesmen are thinking of the narrow escapes they have had from the boom-destroying effects of the cocktail.

The mayor of Alton, Ill., kissed a thousand babies at a picnic. It is this sort of thing that makes men think twice before they enter politics.

The President may be on a bear hunt, but up to date it promises to be a bare hunt, unless he gets one of the varmints in a mighty short while.

When we protest against the Japanese killing thousands of Koreans they point to the gentle and kindly way in which we assimilated the Filipinos.

Business is going on in the departments of Washington as usual. There should be no mistaken idea that the seat of government has been transferred to the canebrakes.

It is said that the Italians cannot understand the theory of America's government. This is evident from the behavior of some of the black hand members who come here.

The Atlanta Journal accuses The Constitution of the same city of sweating purple adjectives at every pore. The near approach of the dry season in Atlanta must be affecting The Constitution editors very much.

The greatest statesman this continent ever produced said: "If I work in marble, in time it will crumble; if I work with brass it will corrode; but if I work with the mind, I work with that which will grow brighter through all eternity." This was but an anticipation of the English philosopher's statement: "On earth there is nothing great but man—in man there is nothing great but mind."

Some people just can't draw the boundary between eccentricity and insanity. Zola, the French novelist, passed whole weeks in the firm conviction that he was an idiot. And yet while in this state of mind, he wrote his masterpieces. Oliver Wendell Holmes, our own American physician, poet and essayist, was a prince in letters. And yet, as great as he was, he persisted in carrying a potato in one pocket and a horse chestnut in the other to keep off rheumatism.

No one who has not lived in Philadelphia can quite grasp the inner significance of its title—The City of Homes—says The Delineator for October. It is not a place of restaurants or numerous cafes where those who haven't homes take their meals. The people, rich and poor, do not live a hotel or a lodging-house life. It is a city of well-to-do neighborhoods, where local interest in each other is absorbing. Every man in town has his tidy little home, a flower bed or two, a front porch where he can sit and smoke his after-dinner pipe or cigar and talk church or politics, or the gossip of the block to his neighbor in the next porch. He and his children have a wonderful park, the largest in the world except the Prater in Vienna—better than any wooded estate that a Pennsylvania railroad magnate can own—where he can spend the day without expense. He has two great rivers to swim in, to sail on, to fish in, and when he saves a little money, he, too, like his richer brother, will get a spot in the country to call his own.

Washington is becoming aroused over the prospective destruction of several historic trees in the Botanical Gardens of the city. It seems that the commission appointed by Congress to select a site for the proposed memorial to Gen. Grant has selected a spot in the Botanical Gardens at present occupied by what is known as the Crittenden oak and the Beck elm, both grand trees, and of historic interest. Orders were given to fell the trees and work was about to begin when an injunction against the proposed destruction was secured. Speaker Cannon was appealed to, and he responded by telegraphing the acting secretary of war. Everybody connected with the business now seems to be up a tree, so to speak, and the outcome is doubtful. It is believed, however, if the trees can be saved until Congress meets their continued existence and preservation will be safeguarded.

Senator W. A. Clark, who has just arrived from a three months' tour of Europe, says that the financial depression which has been felt in the United States is world-wide, and he attributes the condition abroad to what he calls a decided lack of confidence in American securities. This lack of confidence has been brought on by the business scandals, the meat and insurance disclosures, and the New York traction scandal. When it comes down to the foreigners losing confidence in the stability of our business men, and they question our business methods, it is about time we cleaned house thoroughly, if we want to keep on getting our share of the world's trade.

The Lusitania has again broken all records, and is now queen of the seas in earnest. She made two daily runs of 608 and 617 miles, respectively, and averaged practically 25 nautical miles, or almost 30 land miles an hour coming over. Incidentally it is stated she earned a ship subsidy for her owners from the British Government amounting to nearly one million dollars annually.

One headline artist says "Ohio's Big Gun Cracked." If he meant Foraker it would not take very long to arrive at the administration's estimate of the situation.

Wait until the President gets a whack at that Robinson Crusoe story. You will be shown there was no Crusoe, and no island to which he could cruise on.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

Should Not Marry Persons Who Show Evidence of Being Unsuited.

It will be generally conceded by fair-minded people that the divorce laws in many of the States of the Federal Union are bad, and, what is even worse, are often badly administered. It cannot be doubted that easy divorce is a menace to the family and that it threatens the disruption of the home, says The Delineator for October. It will, moreover, be generally agreed that something would be done toward checking the evil if young people were more scrupulously trained in respect to the solemn responsibilities of married life so that hasty and ill-advised unions might be avoided; and if ministers of religion were more careful not to lend their assistance to the formation of unions which they regard as improper. It needs no argument to show that many of the infelicities of married life would be patiently borne if the way to an annulment of the marriage were not known to be so easy, and that it would be better for society that a few should lead unhappy lives than that the sacredness of the family should be underminded by making legislative provision for a quick sundering of the marriage bond.

The latest introduction by the Department of Agriculture is the stingless bee. The new insects come from Asia Minor, and are known as Caucasian bees. Like all other bees they have stings, but their stinglessness lies in the fact that they are so peaceable they never use their stings except in cases of great emergency. The bee has been domesticated for many centuries. Apiaries may be placed on top of high office buildings and other places where the ordinary brand of bee would prove most unwelcome.

GREEKS RETALIATE.

Interesting Legal Contest Begun at Meridian, Miss.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 16.—A special from Meridian, Miss., says:

What promises to be one of the most interesting legal contests in this city was begun Tuesday. Six Greeks, proprietors of fruit stands in this city, were fined $5 each by Mayor Rivers for violating the Sunday law. A leading Greek through his attorney took the initiative to have all drug stores and book and cigar store dealers arrested on the same charge. The statutory law for Meridian permits the sale of drugs, but it seems that it does not allow the sale of ice cream, sodawater, cigars, books and periodicals.

Fined $5,000.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 16—Mr. Frank X. Fitzpatrick, of Boston, the last of the individuals recently indicted in connection with the lottery cases was late Monday fined $5,000, following a conference between United States Attorney William H Ambrecht, and Attorney John H. Casey, of Boston, who represented Mr. Fitzpatrick. Mr. Fitzpatrick is a millionaire resident of Boston and was indicted with a number of other or less prominent people throughout the country some time ago.

Mitchell Is Operated On.

LaSalle, Ill., Oct. 16—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, of America, was operated on Monday for appendicitis. He was under the influence of an anesthetic for 35 minutes. The operation appears to be successful. Physicians say recovery will be slightly delayed on account of the poor condition of the system. Mitchell underwent hernia operations six months ago, and he never fully recovered from the effects.

Whole Family Suicides.

Budapest, Oct. 15.—A quardruple suicide occurred at Kolozsvar when a man, his wife and their two daughters, both grown-up, hung themselves. The father, whose name was Litvay, was a director of the Kolozsvar hospital, and had defrauded the institution. The family was in disgrace, and all four decided to die together. They left a letter, signed by all four, asking the police to keep the affair secret.

New Directors Elected.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 16.—R. E. Steiner, of Montgomery, Ala, and C. E. James, of Chattanooga, Tenn., have been elected members of the board of directors of the Central of Georgia railroad and W. D. Beymer was, by resolution, made comptroller of the system with the same duties that he now performs as auditor. The other members of the board were re-elected.

Shot by His Own Gun in Fight.

Binghamton, Oct. 16.—Charles Snyder died at Coventryville from a gunshot wound received in a fight with a man named Allen at Snyder's home. Mrs. Snyder seized a shotgun and, clubbing it, attempted to strike Allen on the head, when the weapon was discharged, the shot entering Snyder's abdomen.

Shot Out Woman's Eye.

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 15.—On the Reid plantation, east of Columbus, Joe Lowe, negro, became angry with Josie Shell, a negro woman, and blazed away at her with a shotgun at close range. One of her eyes was torn out and her face was peppered with the small shot. Her condition is very serious. The negro was captured and is now confined in the county jail.

Boat Sank; One Man Drowns.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 15—By the sinking of a small boat occupied by four prominent young business men and two negroes, Jim Jones, negro, was drowned and William Voss, one of the white men, had a narrow escape. The boat sank opposite Magazine point, in Mobile river. The body of the negro was not recovered.

Italian Bark Fined.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 15—A fine of $5,000 has been imposed on the Italian bark Rosa T., for failure to produce entry papers into the port of Mobile. The vessel arrived here on Friday last from Trapania, Italy, with a cargo of salt. Captain Salvo, master. An appeal to the treasury department at Washington has been made.

$80,000 Fire at Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 16.—A fire Monday morning on Second avenue north, in the wholesale district, completely gutted the store of John Hitchcock & Sons, wholesale dealers in wagons, harness and seeds, causing a loss estimated at $85,000.

The College Girl's Rescue.

"I believe in a college education for girls," said a professor, "but the girl who comes out of college thinking that she knows a great deal has not profited by her four years' course, for, after all, it is but a smattering that a college education gives us.

"Most girls know this. Many do not. The latter sort carry themselves superciliously, use big words, correct ignorant persons' grammar and fail to make a good marriage. In fact, they create a bad impression everywhere.

"Thus there was a girl—a Vassar girl—who got caught by the incoming tide out on a rock. The tide rose higher and higher, and the girl shrieked and screamed madly for help.

"Help came at last in the shape of a grizzled old shellback in a flat bottomed boat. The girl, as soon as she saw the shellback, recovered her poise and said in her most affected manner:

"'Ah, I knew some succor would come if I but continued calling indefatigably.'

"The shellback scowled.

"'Waal, miss,' he said, 'if that's how ye express yer gratitood the sucker'll be durned if he don't row back without ye.'"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

That Tired Feeling.

If you are languid, depressed, incapable for work, it indicates that your liver is out of order. Herbine will assist nature to throw off headaches, rheumatism and ailments akin to nervousness and restore the energies and vitality of sound and perfect health. J. J. Hubbard, Temple, Texas, writes, "I have used Herbine for the past two years. It has done me more good than all the doctors. It is the best medicine ever made for chills and fever." 50c. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Where Fat Is Beauty.

In Tunis when a man wants to take another wife he picks out a girl and then carries to her father a pair of bracelets and a pair of anklets from one of the other ladies of his household. The bracelets and anklets are slipped on the young woman, and several months are allowed for her fattening. She must fatten until she completely fills the four ornaments or otherwise the man has a right to refuse her, for in Tunis fat is beauty, and a permanently slender girl has no chance of marriage.

Lacking In Humor.

Little Robbie was entertaining Mr. Geezeley while Miss Tripperson was upstairs adjusting her back hair and giving her face a few final dabs with the powder puff.

"My sister says you ain't got no idea of humor," said Robbie.

"Indeed!" Mr. Geezeley returned. "When did she say that?"

"Jist after you was here the last time. She said she seen you lookin at yourself in the mirror several times and you never laughed wunst."—Cleveland Leader.

Wanted—Another Victim.

One day an agent of Fouquier Tinville came to the Luxembourg with a list of victims, drawn up by the accusateur, which contained eighteen names. He collected seventeen of these unfortunates, but could not find the eighteenth. A suspect was passing by, and the agent asked his name. The prisoner declined to give it, and the agent at once handed him over to the gendarmes. Next day the man was guillotined. Another day an agent summoned a prisoner of fifty, but the man did not answer to his name, and a lad of seventeen who was playing at ball was seized, taken to the conciergerie and put to death.

Justified.

"You are charged with having knocked your wife down, blacking both of her eyes and loosening two of her teeth. Have you anything to say for yourself?"

"She had it comin' to her, your honor."

"What did she do or say that could in any way justify such treatment on your part?"

"She said I didn't love her no more."—Houston Post.

Lest We Forget

Baby is restless, can't sleep at night, won't eat, cries spasmodically. A bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge never fails to cure. Every mother should give her baby White's Cream Vermifuge. WRIGHT MAY BE CANDIDATE

Leader of Prohibition Forces Has Eye on U. S. Senatorship.

Rome, Ga., Oct. 16.—It is currently reported here that Hon. Seaborn Wright will announce for the United States senate one day this week.

Mr. Wright returned to the city a few days ago and since that time has had the matter under advisement with his friends here.

To more than one of them he has stated that he would make definitely known his decision within the next few days.

Upon his return here he found letters from friends awaiting him urging him to say whether or not he would become a candidate as sentiment was beginning to take shape after what was considered, in effect, the announcement that Governor Poke Smith would not enter the senatorial race.

The announcement of Mr. Wright may be expected before the end of this week, if current reports are well founded.

Big Plantation Sold.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 16.—Captain Edgeworth F. Eve, through local agents, has sold his plantation in Columbia county to Carlton S. Holenshead, of Washington, D. C. The farm is one of the most valuable in the state and contains about 1,000 acres of land, with a fine old southern mansion, in as good condition as it was before the war. The purchase price was in the neighborhood of $20,000. The farm is located in the Savannah river valley, about 20 miles above Augusta.

Holy Names Society Parades.

New York, Oct. 16.—Fourteen thousand members of the Holy Name societies in Hudson and Bergen counties participated Sunday in a parade and open air meeting in Hoboken, N. J., as a protest against profanity. Every man in line carried a small flag of the order with white letters "H. N. S.," on a blue back ground, and the sight was an impressive one as they marched along the principal thoroughfares of the city. The houses were decorated with American flags.

Landslide Delays Canal Work.

Panama, Oct. 16.—The American engineers are having trouble with the Cucharacha slide, at the south end of the Culebraeul. This point of land always was a source of trouble to the French when they tried to dig the canal, is again in motion and will prove a hinderance all during the wet season. About half a million yards of dirt is in motion. All of this dirt must ultimately be removed, but the engineers would rather get it slowly than have it pushed on them.

Augusta to Close Beer Garden.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 16.—The Augusta Deutscher Schuetzen club will close up its beer garden with the coming of the New Year, and it will be practically the only resort of this class to be effected by the Georgia prohibition bill in Augusta. At a meeting of the board of control it has been agreed that the extensive grounds of the club shall be converted into a sort of park, and all amusements possible will be added to those already in use.

May Return to the Birch.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 16.—Corporal punishment for refractory boys will probably be inaugurated in the public schools of Savannah soon. At a meeting the board of education showed itself almost unanimously in favor of a restoration of the method in which the rod is not spoiled because the boy is spared. It was determined to take final action at the next meeting. In the meantime the public press will be heard upon the subject.

68 Locals Stand Firm.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 16.—The local striking telegraphers announced Monday night that they had received word from six hundred locals, all of which were in favor of continuing on strike. There are only 115 locals. The remaining four hundred locals not yet heard from will probably communicate with the Atlanta strikers. No. 3, in St. Louis, is one that were standing firm.

Sultan's Cash Gone.

Tangier, Oct. 16.—In a dispatch from Rabat the correspondent of the Mail says the extremity of Sultan Abdul Aziz is worse than was at first reported. He has only money for three days and if France does not come to the rescue financially he will be forced to disband his army and abdicate himself at Rabat.

Mexican General Kills Himself.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 15.—Discouraged by ill health, General Rivera Torres, commandant of the Brazos Division of the Mexican army, committed suicide in his quarters at Juarez by shooting himself in the head.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Chronic Ulcers are the result of a deeply polluted and foul blood supply. The blood is filled with impurities and germs which are being constantly fed into the place through the circulation, until all the surrounding flesh becomes diseased and the sore an obstinate and permanent trouble. Every symptom of an old ulcer suggests pollution; the discharge, the red, angry looking flesh, the inflammation and discoloration of surrounding parts, all show that the ulcer is prevented from healing by the constant drainage through it of impurities from the blood. This impure condition of the blood may be hereditary, or it may be the remains of some constitutional disease, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system, or the absorption of the refuse of the body which has not been properly expelled through the natural channels. But whatever the cause, the blood is so weakened and polluted that it does not properly nourish and stimulate the place, and the sore cannot heal. Salves, plasters, lotions, etc., keep the sore or ulcer clean, relieve pain, and perhaps reduce inflammation, but can never permanently heal them because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down to the very fountain-head of the trouble, drives out all poisons and germs, builds up the weak, sluggish blood, gives energy and strength to the system, and by sending a fresh, healthy stream of blood to the diseased parts, allows the ulcer to heal naturally and permanently. Nothing reaches inherited taints like S. S. S. It cleanses the circulation of every trace of hereditary disease or impurity, and those who have nursed and treated an old sore for years will expect unusual results as soon as the system becomes invigorated by S. S. S. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free to all who write.

FLOODS CLAIM LIVES

Distressing State of Affairs Reported From Spain.

30,000 THROWN OUT OF WORK

Village Has Been Terribly Ravaged. Waters Have Washed Out Countless Coffins and Bodies from the Local Cemetery.

Barcelona, Oct. 16.—The flood situation in this vicinity is most serious.

Up to the present time five persons have been drowned and 30,000 thrown out of work. The greatest distress is reported from Manresa, the birthplace of St. Ignatius, the founder of Society of Jesuit. The village has been terribly ravaged and the waters have washed out countless coffins and bodies from the local cemetery.

The Guadalmedina river is out of its banks and in this district several old people and children have been drowned.

$30,000,000 WILL CONTEST.

Heirs of Nelson Morris Will Receive $6,000,000 Cash.

Chicago, Oct. 16—The Tribune says that a thirty million dollar will contest that was argued and settled out of court was disclosed when the last testament of Nelson Morris, the packer, was filed for probate.

As a result of this remarkable situation the principal provision of the will has been nullified. Instead of carrying out an arrangement which would have held the bulk of the estate in trust for at least 15 years the widow and her four chaldren will divide the property equally among themselves at once. Insead of $500,000 and an annuity of $15,000 during the next 20 years each, the five principal heirs will receive at once $6,000,000 cash and securities.

Ever since Nelson Morris died nearly two months ago a strenuous though friendly debate over his will has been going on in the family. On one side, seeking to abrogate the trust plan under which they would not have come into their inheritance for from 15 to 20 years, were ranged the widow and three of the children—Mrs. Maurice L. Rothschild, Mrs. Henry C. Schwab and Ira Nelson Morris; on the other side seeking to carry out the provisions of the will under which he would have been in control of the estate, stood Edward Morris, the oldest son and the present head of the Morris Packing corporations. It was simply a case of divergence of opinion.

Finally Edward Morris met the views of the rest of the family and an amicable agreement, setting aside the trust plan and providing for an equal division of the property was signed.

NEW MAYOR INSTALLED.

Remarkable Demonstration at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Chattanooga, Tenn, Oct. 17.—Colonel W. R. Crabtree, newly elected mayor of Chattanooga, was formally inaugurater Monday night with one of the most remarkable demonstrations of the kind in the history of the city.

The crowd assembled to honor the incoming official taxed the council chambers and floral decorations were in lavish profusion. According to hte doctrine the new mayor advanced in his inaugural he will be in his office much of the time and he declared the people are entitled to the executive service of their officials. He denounced the bribe giver as equally criminal with the bribe receiver. He succeeds William L. Frierson, wao held the office two years.

Editor Appointed Sheriff.

Montgomery, Ala, Oct. 16.—Horace Hood, editor and part owner of the Montgomery Journal, and one of the oldest editors of the Alabama press, has been appointed sheriff of Montgomery county, one of the best paying places in the state. Mr. Hood has edited newspapers in Montgomery for many years and is well known in every section of the south. He is

SHOT WOMAN AS SHE FLED.

Story of New York's Under World Has Tragic Denouement in Schenectady.

Schnectady, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Suddenly coming upon a woman in a resort here with whom he had lived in New York for three years, a man whose identity is unknown, drew a revolver and, as she turned to flee, shot her in the back, almost instantly killing her.

The victim, who was known as Pearl Harris, had scarcely breathed her last when Chief of Police Rynex, Detective Fuller and Patrolman Ragucci, came upon the murderer in the back room of a saloon. Before they could lay hands on or cover him, he shot Ragucci through the abdomen, and throwing his pistol in the face of Chief Rynex, who was in the act of drawing his revolver, dashed into the barroom. There he grabbed a bottle and fought his way out to the street.

Leaving Detective Cutler to care for Ragucci, Chief Rynex started after the fugitive and chased him into a lumber yard, where he disappeared.

The man has been in the city only a few days, and is known here by the name of "Curly." He was well dressed and seemed to have plenty of money. He has been hanging about the red light district spending money lavishly.

The woman was formerly an actress and lived with a man in New York who, from the description she gave to her acquaintances, is believed to be her slayer.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Bill to Establish Provinces is Defeated by the Laity.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 16.—The principal event that occurred Monday in the Episcopal convention was the defeat of the so-called archbishop or provinces bill, which has been holding the attention of the house of bishops and the house of deputies for the past two days. The house of bishops passed the measure and the clergy were overwhelmingl yin favor of it. The laity, however, defeated the measure by a nonconcurrence.

At a joint meeting of the bishops and the deputies, the bishop of Mississippi and the bishop of Georgia spoke on the negro question, both contending that the work among the negroes in the southern states had advanced rapidly within the last ten years, and both making earnest pleas that the church continue the work.

The Rt. Rev. Samuel Ferguson, bishop of Cape Palmas, the only negro sitting in either house of the convention, also spoke and made an excellent impression, especially the delegates from the southern states.

The Rev. Dr. Wilkins, of Los Angeles, had passed a resolution forming a commission of ten bishops, fifteen clergymen and twenty laymen to raise a fund of $5,000,000 for the relief of disabled clergy.

Killed on First Auto Ride.

Morenci, Mich., Oct. 16.—Arthur Onweiler, a merchaat of Lyons, O., bought a new automobile, and was taking his first ride in it with his wife and two children. While driving at fair speed he lost control of the car and it ran into a deep ditch five miles east of here, turning turtle, and crushing him to death beneath it. Mrs. Onweiler and one of the children, a boy, were seriously hurt. The boy was internally injured and has a broken arm.

Hon. Campbell Slemp Dead.

Big Stone Gap, Va., Oct. 16—Hon. Campbell Slemp, member of congress from the ninth district of Virginia, died early Sunday morning of angina pectoris. He was the only republican member of the Virginia delegation in congress.

College Student Killed.

Hamilton, O., Oct. 16.—J. S. Emerson, of Bellefontaine, Ohio, a student at Miami university, was killed and Donald Haven was cut and bruised when an electric car struck an automobile in which they were riding.

SENSATIONAL STORY

Mother and Son Believed to Have Been Highway Robbers.

ARE ARRESTED BY POLICE

Officers Say They Have Evidence to Show that Mrs. Georgia Wren and Her Son Have Been Principals in Several Recent Hold Ups.

Natalbany, La., Oct. 16.—In the arrest near here of Mrs. Georgia Wren and her young son, Charles, the Tangipahoa parish authorities allege that they have two highwaymen who have been terrorizing the people of this section of the state for some time. Hold-ups have been frequent and suspicion pointed to the Wrens, who have been principals in more than one gun fight.

Mrs. Wren is a crack rifle and revolver shot and when Deputy Sheriff A. T. Watson attempted to make the arrest she reached for her rifle. The officer was too quick for her, though, and got the drop on her, while other officers covered her son with their revolvers. Mother and son are now in the parish prison at Amite City, where they were taken by the posse.

After the arrest, a man who was held up while riding a bicycle along one of the parish roads, helped identify the couple as the parties who had him to dismount at the point of a rifle and turn over all the money he had on him, amounting to about $15.

The Wrens are well known in New Orleans where they spent several weeks in a hospital as a result of a fight with officers in this parish.

BURGLARS LOOT SAFES.

Several Georgia Towns Visited by Professional Cracksmen.

Americus, Ga., Oct. 16.—Professional cracksmen, who have recently been operating in southwestern Georgia towns, Monday morning burglarized two stores at De Soto and another at Cobb, small towns near the city of Americus.

Safes were dynamited and hundreds of dollars secured, while hundreds checks and postoffice orders were scattered broadcast.

Six hundred dollars were taken from the safe of Esten Howe, at De Soto, his safe being blown into fragments. The losses of Eugene Moore and Jesse Hill, whose safes were likewise dynamited, were nominal, little being secured at either store.

Residents of De Soto heard the explosion about daylight, but supposed it was railroad employees using torpedoes to signal a train.

The burglars made good their escape with their booty.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

Believed that the Fontenac Powder Mills Blew Up.

Brazil, Ind., Oct. 16.—Taree distinct explosions were heard Tuesday from the direction of the Fontenac Powder mills, 15 miles away.

Many windows were shattered in the business and residential districts. All plate glass windows in the Citizens' bank building were destroyed. It was reported here that the powder house and two mills of the Dupont Powder company at Fontenac had blown up and that from 25 to 100 persons had been killed.

All communication with Fontenac is cut off by wire and persons in automobiles left at once to render any possible assistance.

Fontenac is a mining town of a few hundred inhabitants, situated on the Big Four railroad 18 miles east of Terre Haute and 65 miles west of Indianapolis.

Savannah, Ga., Has Costly Fire.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 16—At 1:50 a. m. Monday a rapid fire destroyed the hardware stock of H. H. Peebles & Sons, 125 Congress street, west. The loss is estimated at $70,000; $60,000 on stock and $10,000 on the building, both well insured. The surrounding property was in grave danger. No explanation of the origin of the fire

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT.

Four Persons Killed in Pennsylvania at a Grade Crossing.

Pottstown, Pa., Oct. 16.—As a result of a grade crossing automobile accident on the Philadelphia and Reading railway, at Kelm street, here Monday night four persons were killed and one probably fatally injured. The automobile which was run down on the crossing by a Pottsville express, contained a party of five persons from Kimberton, Chester county, Pennsylvania. The dead are::

Jacob Reese, aged 55 yeyars.

Mrs. Jacob Reese, aged 48 years.

Mrs. Anthony W. Emery, Jr., aged 42 years.

Belva Emery, aged one year, child of Mrs Emery.

Anthony W. Emery, Jr., owner and driver of the automobile, was the only one of the party to escape death, and his thigh was broken, and he received internal injuries in the accident.

The party were on their way home from a shopping tour in this city when the accident occurred.

A hedge and a clump of trees, together with a couple of buildings, partly obscured the crossing, and it is probable Mr. Emery did not know a train was due, for he drove the machine directly on the track in front of the express.

The automobile was broken into bits and the members of the party were hurled out of the machine. Mr. Reese and Mrs. Emery were killed instantly. Mrs. Reese's neck was broken and she died on the train while being brought to this city. The child died shortly after the mother.

Mrs. Reese and Mrs. Emery were sisters, and by the accident almost an entire family was wiped out.

NOT HOSTILE TO RAILROADS.

President Finley Makes Statement to Stockholders of Southern.

New York, Oct. 16.—That the south is not hostile to railroads is one of the declarations appearing in President W. W. Finley's statement to the stockholders of the Southern railway, a portion of the report of which for the year ending June 30 last has just been made public.

In fact, President Finley says, there is a growing feeling among shippers and travelers in that part of the country in favor of a resonable treatment of railroad enterprises. The statement then cites as an indication of the rapid industrial xpansion of the south that last year no fewer than 860 new plants of various sorts were installed along the Southern railroad lines and that the capacities of many older plants were enlarged.

May Be Great Railway Strike.

London, Oct. 16.—Richard Bell, a member of parliament, general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, announced that the railway companies had sent an unfavorable reply to the society's demand for the recognition of the unions. The ballots so far received from the men in the vote being taken throughout the United Kingdom on the advisability of declaring a general strike in order to secure recognition of their organization was largely in favor of a general strike. The voting will be concluded on Oct. 26.

Dynamite Suspects Arrested.

Joplin, Mo., Oct. 16.—Five persons suspected of being the parties who dynamited the Joplin News-Hreald plant on the night of Sept. 13, were arrested early Tuesday morning. They are Minnie St. Clair, Charles Smith, W. S. Martin, Bessie Beam and Hazel Ray, alias Hazel Red. Minnie St. Claire formerly conducted a resort in this city and all of those who were arrested are well known in police circles.

Stricken by Death in Court.

Fitzgerald, Ga., Oct. 16.—James R. Green, who was the prosecuting witness in the case of the state against Hall, for burglarizing Green's house, was stricken by apoplexy while the case was on trial Monday afternoon before Judge Whipple, of Ben Hill superior court, and fell to the floor, dying in less than a minute. Mr. Green was an aged veteran of the late war, and lived a short distance out of the

MONEY EXHAUSTED; WORK IS STOPPED

Contractor Beeman Has Stopped Work on Lateral Sewers.

FORCE OF MEN IS NOW IDLE

Contractor Beeman, Observing That There Were No Available Funds at Present, Ordered Force off the Job. A Complicated Situation.

Because of the fact that there is nothing financially in sight to carry out the terms of the contract, work has been temporarily suspended in the laying of the lateral connections for the sewers, and work is now at a standstill for an indefinite period—at least until Contractor Beeman is assured in a substantial manner that his money will be forthcoming from time to time, as the work is completed.

Contractor Beeman, in speaking of the matter Wednesday, stated that he was compelled to lay off a large force of men whom he had employed on the work. "The pay-roll is a big one," he added, "and I cannot afford to keep these men on good salaries and advance the money to pay them off each week without a reasonable assurance that I am going to be compensated in obedience to the contract as made with the Board of Public Works. As soon as this assurance is given me, and I can see something in sight, I will put a gang back on the job."

When the Board of Public Works let this contract for lateral sewerage connections there were only two bidders, and Mr. Beeman, who also installed the sewerage system, was the successful bidder, his estimate being between $6,000 and $7,000. The contract provided that the work was to be completed within six months from the time the contract was signed, but no question of possible financial embarassment was mentioned in the same. This places the whole affair in a rather embarassing situation, but Contractor Beeman maintains that he cannot afford to make further progress until reasonably assured of his money from time to time.

Thus stands the matter, the outcome of which will be awaited with interest.

A Painful Accident.

Harry Owens had the misfortune of an accident yesterday which caused the laceration of two fingers on one of his hands, and which will no doubt cause a great deal of inconvenience and pain for the next few days.

Harry was working with a mowing machine, when his fingers became entangled with the sharp knives, cutting same severely. With remarkable coolness, however, he had the wounded members dressed, and hopes in a few days to be all right again.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble gets upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle

A ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

Two Popular Young People of Marion County Were Married Here.

There was rather a romantic marriage in this city Tuesday morning, which summoned Justice Colman from his warm couch at daylight, and which at least had the tendency to console a couple of young people, the Justice sending them away as man and wife.

J. J. Leitner, a young man who resides near Ocala, and Miss Della A. McCollough, also of that section, traveled all night for the purpose of marriage. Report says that they visited several places in an endeavor to find an officer authorized to tie the nuptial knot, but were unsuccessful until they reached Gainesville, where they secured a license and sought the services of Justice Colman.

The contracting parties are well-known and popular in Marion county, where they have made their home for years. It is not known that there was any particular objection to their union, but with a desire to have the same come off with a slight tinge of romance, this action was taken.

NEWBERRY NOTES.

Newberry, Oct. 16.—Miss Belle Hunt of Valdosta, Ga., is here, guest of Mrs. H. C. Collins.

Mrs. Lillie Kitchen, accompanied by her daughter, Minnie, visited Archer Thursday, returning Monday.

Mrs. S. P. Getsen is visiting friends in Fort White this week.

We are sorry to report Jack Garland on our sick list this week. His friends hope to see him out again soon.

Misses Lizzie and Cena Hamilton, and brother John, accompanied by Miss Clem Pickett, all of Jonesville, attended church here Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanzant and daughter, Georgia, spent Sunday at Dutton, guests of relatives.

After a few days' visit here to his parents, Bedford Wetherington left Sunday for Hernando.

Mrs. W. H. Tucker is confined to her home with lagrippe. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

MICANOPY NOTES.

Micanopy, Oct. 16.—Grover Alison of Citra is here on a visit to his brother, J. H. Alison, and sister, Mrs. C. E. Melton.

C. H. McAllister of Irvine is in town on business.

Our school is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Sue D. Feaster will be at home in a few days. She has been off on a summer trip, taking in Washington, Jamestown, Lynchburg and other places of interest.

The new hotel when completed will be up-to-date and will be a credit to our town.

Oranges and grapefruit are moving from this section.

W. R. Abstein of Island Grove is in town and it is said he intends to make his home here. He is a nice young man and we are glad to welcome good people in our midst.

DEATH OF DR. WALKUP.

Well-Known and Prominent Citizen of McIntosh Passed Away.

Information has reached this city of the death of Dr. H. C. Walkup of McIntosh, which occurred suddenly Wednesday night.

Deceased was apparently in his usual good health upon retiring Tuesday night, but about midnight was awakened with a pain, expiring a few moments afterward.

Deceased was about sixty-five years of age, a native of Virginia, and served in the Confederate army with galantry. He moved to Florida many years ago, however, since which time he has been engaged in his profession and as a druggist at McIntosh.

Deceased was a devout Christian, and few men in the church were more faithful workers for the cause of Christ. He has for years been an elder in the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Walkup is survived by a widow, two daughters and several sons, one of whom is attending a medical college in Baltimore. His sudden death has cast a gloom over the entire community.

The funeral will be held at McIntosh today.

NOLIE SLAUGHTER FREE.

Young Man Accused of Entering Postoffice Released on Bond.

Nolie Slaughter, a well-known young man of the West End who was arrested upon a charge of breaking and entering the United States postoffice building at Wannee a few days ago, has been released on bond, and yesterday returned to his home.

The evidence against young Slaughter must be of a rather flimsy nature, as no particular effort was made to hold him, the United States officers evidently being indifferent in the case.

AGED NEGRO DEAD.

Glascow Montgomery, Ninety-Six, Expired Suddenly at Kanapaha.

Kanapaha, Oct. 16.—Glascow Montgomery, colored, ninety-six years old, died suddenly at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was well and going about yesterday afternoon. He was brought to this section from South Carolina by the Hailes and belonged to a large family, most of whom were noted for longevity.

He has a brother living at Arredondo, Ephriam Montgomery, now 109 years old.

Deputy Mason Busy.

Deputy County Judge George Mason, who has charge of the office during the absence of his father, has been quite busy issuing marriage licenses recently, as has been noted in The Sun before.

Within the past two days Mr. Mason has issued licenses to wed to J. J. Leitner and Della A. McCollough, J. R. Bennefield and Bessie L. Robinson, white, and three colored.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpicide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it with Canthrarides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

OOSEVELT AFTER THE THIRD TERM

Such is Opinion of Polititians Visiting Washington.

FUSION IN HEARST'S LEAGUE

It is Said That the League Will "Divide Up" in New York—Other Interesting Chat From the National Capital.

Special Correspondence The Daily Sun.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—The general opinion expressed by visiting politicians to this city, both Democrats and Republicans, is that President Roosevelt is scheming for a nomination for a third term. In this I do not agree with them, for I believe the President too truthful and too much of a man to go back on his pledge to the people and those Republican aspirants who desire to succeed him, which he voluntarily made on election night in 1904. It is quite possible that he would be pleased if the Republican convention should nominate him in spite of his repeated declaration to his friends that he declines to again be a candidate, for a refusal to accept "the crown" when offered would be unique in American politics, and almost in the world's history. The welcome that the President has received on his Southern trip means nothing as far as party politics is concerned, for Iowa and Illinois will give a Republican majority, and Missouri and the other Southern States will give a Democratic majority, whoever are the candidates. The people of the States bordering the Mississippi river and its tributaries are so anxious for the improvement of the rivers that they would greet anyone with enthusiasm who has influence to help the projected improvements. Not but what Theodore Roosevelt the man has many enthusiastic admirers, both Democrats and Republicans, and Theodore Roosevelt, the President, has a band of devoted adherents composed of partisan politicians who he has rewarded with Federal offices. These, of course, and their relatives and friends are ready at all times to shout for the dispenser of patronage with the hope of continuance and advancement to add to their zeal. Every President when invited to visit localities has met with similar ovations.

The reported fusion between Hearst's Independence League and the Republican machine of New York City on the legislative, county and city ticket is a surprise to the friends here of Mr. Hearst and Democrats generally. When Mr. Hearst gave out his interview the other day that in future the Independence League would make its own nominations on the high moral ground that both the old parties are corrupt, people wondered what Mr. Hearst's intentions were politically. Yet now, at the first opportunity, we are told that the Republican managers and the league have agreed upon a division of the offices, and Mr. Hearst's political manager is to run as the candidate of both the league and the Republicans for one of the principal offices. When Mr. Hearst was the candidate for Governor of New York, as the regular Democratic nominee, the Republicans could say nothing too bad about him, yet now they appear to be hand and glove with him. The staid old New York Tribune only approves the fusion of the Republican party with the league on the ground that "the end may justify the means," and that good may come of evil. The good being the chance of electing a few Republican officials and the evil it is presumed the association with Mr. Hearst and his satellites of the Independence League. Tammany is an angel of light compared to this unholy alliance and with the candidates all Democrats will welcome the defeat of the Republicans and the Hearst League, the only object seems to be to secure official position and disrupt the Democracy.

The most important Democratic event of the past week is the visit of John Sharpe Williams to this city and the announcement by his friends that more than half of his fellow-Congressmen who are Democratic, have urged him to accept the party leadership again and have promised him their votes. There will be some contest for one of two others, but Mr. Williams will be re-elected, unless something unforseen occurs. He admirably fills the two Democratic requirements of honesty and ability, and is better equipped than any other man in the House today for the position of minority leader.

Presidential booms are still the topic of conversation wherever Democrats gather. Judge George Gray of Delaware is the latest that is receiving attention, and it is understood that prominent Democrats of Delaware will formally launch a movement for him in the near future. The Chanler boom is reported to be meeting with great encouragement in the South, but in what particular States is being concealed by its friends. Democrats from Virginia and West Virginia report that Senator Daniel will probably receive the vote of those States in the National convention, but no attempt is being made to induce other Southern States to fall in line.

The people of Texas, as reported by Samuel R. Perryman, of Houston, who was in the city the beginning of the week, "would like to see Senator Culberson nominated for the Presidency by the Democrats, but he has discouraged any use of his name as long as Mr. Bryan is a candidate. But if there is the slightest ground for believing that some other man than Bryan is favored Texas will go over bag and baggage to the supporters of Culberson." Mr. Perryman also declared that: "The prejudice against a Southern man for the Presidency is rapidly vanishing. There has been more talk this year about nominating a man below the Mason and Dixon line than at any time since the war, and this talk will increase year by year, until we shall nominate and elect such a man."

There is a decided movement in Ohio and elsewhere looking to the nomination of Judge Judson Harmon, but I do not look for any decisive steps in that direction until after the result of the elections in Cleveland and the other Ohio cities have been decided this fall. One of the most influential Democrats of the country declared to me a few days ago, that as a matter of party policy the Democratic candidate for President must be considered able to carry his own State, and that instead of a wealthy candidate for Vice-President an equally strong man should be nominated for second place who must also be able to put before the people with marked ability Democratic doctrines. But I told him his requirements would eliminate Mr. Bryan as the Democratic candidate for it is generally conceded that Nebraska is Republican. "It is all a question of availability," he said; "most of us would rejoice to see Mr. Bryan President of the United States; but what would it profit him to be defeated the third time? The success of the Democratic party is of more importance than the political fortunes of any man."

MELROSE NOTES.

Melrose, Oct. 16.—Quite an old landmark on the Bellamy road was wiped out by fire on Monday night, when the old Goodson house burned down. It was occupied by J. B. Lewis, colored, an industrious farmer, who, besides his furniture, lost a bale of cotton. His friends, both white and colored, are helping him generously to get a fresh start.

There seems to be a great prospect for many visitors this season, judging from the many letters received inquiring for hotel rates and furnished cottages. The first contingent of our regular winter residents is expected next Tuesday.

SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE.

What is Causing the Increase of Catarrh in Gainesville?

In spite of the best efforts of medical men, catarrhal troubles are increasing not only in Gainesville, but all over the country.

Catarrh is a germ disease, and to cure it germ life in the breathing organs should be destroyed, and to do this no other treatment has such positive and beneficial action as Hyomei.

When the mucous membrane is irritated and raw and the tissues weakened, there is an ideal lodging place for catarrhal germs. Breathe Hyomei and see how quickly it soothes the membranes, vitalizes the tissues and destroys all the disease germs, rendering catarrh no longer possible.

There is no dangerous stomach drugging when Hyomei is used; no tablets or liquid mixtures destroying digestion.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomei outfit, the healing balsams penetrate to the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, destroying the catarrhal germs so that quick recovery follows.

J. W. McCollum & Co. agree to refund the money to any purchaser of Hyomei who does not find that it does all that is claimed for it. The complete outfit costs but $1.00.

Big Bear Killed Marked "T. R."

Black Duck, Minn., Oct. 16.—Had President Roosevelt come up here on his hunting trip he would have found a giant black bear waiting for him, with the initials "T. R." in white hair plainly showing on his right side. The bear was killed by Henry Savage, a homesteader. An examination showed that the bear had been through a fire in its infancy and that white hair had grown in where the original black hair had been burned off. The initials "T. R." are as perfect as though put there by a paint brush. Savage has refused $50 for the skin, which he will send to the president.

PICKERS SCARCE; COTTON ROTTING

Growers Offer from $1.25 to $1.75 for Gathering of Staple.

The farmers of the Sea Island cotton belt, irrespective of any particular locality, seem to be "up against it" good and hard this season. Notwithstanding that the crop is reported to be anywhere from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent short throughout the belt, the matter of gathering that of the plant which did mature is proving a difficult problem, according to the report of a number of growers.

Owing to the numerous naval stores and lumber plants in operation throughout this section of the country, all clamoring for labor and paying good wages, it has been a problem to secure pickers, and it was reported here Wednesday that growers are offering from $1.25 to $1.75 per hundred pounds for gathering the staple, and labor is scarce at that. In former years pickers have been accustomed to receive an average of seventy-five cents per hundred for their labor, last year the price going to $1, and in some very unusual instances $1.25 per hundred.

This condition of affairs is laid at the doors of the mill men and turpentine operators, as the growers declare they are responsible. However, these men are not to blame, as they are as badly in need of help as the cotton grower.

There should be no scarcity of pickers at the figures offered, however, as women and children, who are unfit for mill and turpentine work, make admirable cotton pickers. Nevertheless, it is the case that pickers are in demand, the staple in many instances is rusting and rotting in the boll, and the situation at present looks anything but favorable.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent, medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Is Louisiana faking the President with bear-less swamps?

The pure food law ought to make them state on the bottle how many headaches there are inside.

Harry Thaw has engaged as his lawyer the man who nominated Judge Parker; and everyone knows what happened to Parker.

Judge Parker can point to a number of men whose Presidential prospects blossomed and faded even more rapidly than his own.

If the copper magnates keep on grabbing land in the Northwest they might as well change the name of Alaska to Guggenheim.

A number of banqueting statesmen are thinking of the narrow escapes they have had from the boom-destroying effects of the cocktail.

The mayor of Alton, Ill., kissed a thousand babies at a picnic. It is this sort of thing that makes men think twice before they enter politics.

The President may be on a bear hunt, but up to date it promises to be a hare hunt, unless he gets one of the varmints in a mighty short while.

When we protest against the Japanese killing thousands of Koreans they point to the gentle and kindly way in which we assimilated the Filipinos.

Business is going on in the departments of Washington as usual. There should be no mistaken idea that the seat of government has been transferred to the canebrakes.

It is said that the Italians cannot understand the theory of America's government. This is evident from the behavior of some of the black hand members who come here.

The Atlanta Journal accuses The Constitution of the same city of sweating purple adjectives at every pore. The near approach of the dry season in Atlanta must be affecting The Constitution editors very much.

The greatest statesman this continent produced said: "If I work in marble, in time it will crumble. If I work with brass it will corrode. If I work with the mind, I work that which will grow brighter through eternity." This was but a paraphrase of the English philosopher's statement: "On earth there is nothing great but man—in man there is nothing great but mind."

We just can't draw the line between eccentricity and insanity. the French novelist. weeks in the firm conclusion he was an idiot. And this state of mind, he masterpieces. Oliver Wendell Holmes, American physician, poet and humorist, was a prince in his profession, as great as he was in carrying a potato in his pocket and a horse chestnut in his hip pocket to keep off rheumatism.

No one who has not lived in Philadelphia can quite grasp the inner significance of its title—The City of Homes—says The Delineator for October. It is not a place of restaurants or numerous cafes where those who haven't homes take their meals. The people, rich and poor, do not live a hotel or a lodging-house life. It is a city of well-to-do neighborhoods, where local interest in each other is absorbing. Every man in town has his tidy little home, a flower bed or two, a front porch where he can sit and smoke his after-dinner pipe or cigar and talk church or politics, or the gossip of the block to his neighbor in the next porch. He and his children have a wonderful park, the largest in the world except the Prater in Vienna—better than any wooded estate that a Pennsylvania railroad magnate can own—where he can spend the day without expense. He has two great rivers to swim in, to sail on, to fish in, and when he saves a little money, he, too, like his richer brother, will get a spot in the country to call his own.

Washington is becoming aroused over the prospective destruction of several historic trees in the Botanical Gardens of the city. It seems that the commission appointed by Congress to select a site for the proposed memorial to Gen. Grant has selected a spot in the Botanical Gardens at present occupied by what is known as the Crittenden oak and the Beck elm, both grand trees, and of historic interest. Orders were given to fell the trees and work was about to begin when an injunction against the proposed destruction was secured. Speaker Cannon was appealed to, and he responded by telegraphing the acting secretary of war. Everybody connected with the business now seems to be up a tree, so to speak, and the outcome is doubtful. It is believed, however, if the trees can be saved until Congress meets their continued existence and preservation will be safeguarded.

Senator W. A. Clark, who has just arrived from a three months' tour of Europe, says that the financial depression which has been felt in the United States is world-wide, and he attributes the condition abroad to what he calls a decided lack of confidence in American securities. This lack of confidence has been brought on by the business scandals, the meat and insurance disclosures, and the New York traction scandal. When it comes down to the foreigners losing confidence in the stability of our business men, and they question our business methods, it is about time we cleaned house thoroughly, if we want to keep on getting our share of the world's trade.

The Lusitania has again broken all records, and is now queen of the seas in earnest. She made two daily runs of 608 and 617 miles, respectively, and averaged practically 25 nautical miles, or almost 30 land miles an hour coming over. Incidentally it is stated she earned a ship subsidy for her owners from the British Government amounting to nearly one million dollars annually.

One headline artist says "Ohio's Big Gun Cracked." If he meant Foraker it would not take very long to arrive at the administration's estimate of the situation.

Wait until the President gets a whack at that Robinson Crusoe story. You will be shown there was no Crusoe, and no island to which he could cruise on.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

Should Not Marry Persons Who Show Evidence of Being Unsuited.

It will be generally conceded by fair-minded people that the divorce laws in many of the States of the Federal Union are bad, and, what is even worse, are often badly administered. It cannot be doubted that easy divorce is a menace to the family and that it threatens the disruption of the home, says The Delineator for October. It will, moreover, be generally agreed that something would be done toward checking the evil if young people were more scrupulously trained in respect to the solemn responsibilities of married life so that hasty and ill-advised unions might be avoided; and if ministers of religion were more careful not to lend their assistance to the formation of unions which they regard as improper. It needs no argument to show that many of the infelicities of married life would be patiently borne if the way to an annulment of the marriage were not known to be so easy, and that it would be better for society that a few should lead unhappy lives than that the sacredness of the family should be undermined by making legislative provision for a quick sundering of the marriage bond.

The latest introduction by the Department of Agriculture is the stingless bee. The new insects come from Asia Minor, and are known as Caucasian bees. Like all other bees they have stings, but their stinglessness lies in the fact that they are so peaceable they never use their stings except in cases of great emergency. The bee has been domesticated for many centuries. Apiaries may be placed on top of high office buildings and other places where the ordinary brand of bee would prove most unwelcome.

GREEKS RETALIATE.

Interesting Legal Contest Begun at Meridian, Miss.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 16.—A special from Meridian, Miss., says:

What promises to be one of the most interesting legal contests in this city was begun Tuesday. Six Greeks, proprietors of fruit stands in this city, were fined $5 each by Mayor Rivers for violating the Sunday law. A leading Greek through his attorney took the initiative to have all drug stores and book and cigar store dealers arrested on the same charge. The statutory law for Meridian permits the sale of drugs, but it seems that it does not allow the sale of ice cream, sodawater, cigars, books and periodicals.

Fined $5,000.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 16—Mr. Frank X. Fitzpatrick, of Boston, the last of the individuals recently indicted in connection with the lottery cases was late Monday fined $5,000, following a conference between United States Attorney William H Ambrecht, and Attorney John H. Casey, of Boston, who represented Mr. Fitzpatrick. Mr. Fitzpatrick is a millionaire resident of Boston and was indicted with a number of other or less prominent people throughout the country some time ago.

Mitchell is Operated On.

LaSalle, Ill., Oct. 16—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, of America, was operated on Monday for appendicitis. He was under the influence of an anesthetic for 35 minutes. The operation appears to be successful. Physicians say recovery will be slightly delayed on account of the poor condition of the system. Mitchell underwent hernia operations six months ago, and he never fully recovered from the effects.

Whole Family Suicides.

Budapest, Oct. 15.—A quardruple suicide occurred at Kolozsvar when a man, his wife and their two daughters, both grown-up, hung themselves. The father, whose name was Litvay, was a director of the Kolozsvar hospital, and had defrauded the institution. The family was in disgrace, and all four decided to die together. Tney left a letter, signed by all four, asking the police to keep the affair secret.

New Directors Elected.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 16.—R. E. Steiner, of Montgomery, Ala, and C. E. James, of Chattanooga, Tenn., have been elected members of the board of directors of the Central of Georgia railroad and W. D. Beymer was, by resolution, made comptroller of the system with the same duties that he now performs as auditor. The other members of the board were re-elected.

Shot by His Own Gun in Fight.

Binghamton, Oct. 16.—Charles Snyder died at Coventryville from a gunshot wound received in a fight with a man named Allen at Snyder's home. Mrs. Snyder seized a shotgun and, clubbing it, attempted to strike Allen on the head, when the weapon was discharged, the shot entering Snyder's abdomen.

Shot Out Woman's Eye.

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 15.—On the Reid plantation, east of Columbus, Joe Lowe, negro, became angry with Josie Shell, a negro woman, and blazed away at her with a shotgun at close range. One of her eyes was torn out and her face was peppered with the small shot. Her condition is very serious. The negro was captured and is now confined in the county jail.

Boat Sank; One Man Drowns.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 15—By the sinking of a small boat occupied by four prominent young business men and two negroes, Jim Jones, negro, was drowned and William Voss, one of the white men, had a narrow escape. The boat sank opposite Magazine point, in Mobile river. The body of the negro was not recovered.

Italian Bark Fined.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 15—A fine of $5,000 has been imposed on the Italian bark Rosa T., for failure to produce entry papers into the port of Mobile. The vessel arrived here on Friday last from Trapania, Italy, with a cargo of salt, Captain Salvo, master. An appeal to the treasury department at Washington has been made.

$80,000 Fire at Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 16.—A fire Monday morning on Second avenue, north, in the wholesale district, completely gutted the store of John Hitchcock & Sons, wholesale dealers in wagons, harness and seeds, causing a loss estimated at $80,000.

The College Girl's Rescue.

"I believe in a college education for girls," said a professor, "but the girl who comes out of college thinking that she knows a great deal has not profited by her four years' course, for, after all, it is but a smattering that a college education gives us.

"Most girls know this. Many do not. The latter sort carry themselves superciliously, use big words, correct ignorant persons' grammar and fail to make a good marriage. In fact, they create a bad impression everywhere.

"Thus there was a girl—a Vassar girl—who got caught by the incoming tide out on a rock. The tide rose higher and higher, and the girl shrieked and screamed madly for help.

"Help came at last in the shape of a grizzled old shellback in a flat bottomed boat. The girl, as soon as she saw the shellback, recovered her poise and said in her most affected manner:

"'Ah, I knew some succor would come if I but continued calling indefatigably.'

"The shellback scowled.

"'Waal, miss,' he said, 'if that's how ye express yer gratitood the sucker'll be durned if he don't row back without ye.'"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

That Tired Feeling.

If you are languid, depressed, incapable for work, it indicates that your liver is out of order. Herbine will assist nature to throw off headaches, rheumatism and ailments akin to nervousness and restore the energies and vitality of sound and perfect health. J. J. Hubbard, Temple, Texas, writes, "I have used Herbine for the past two years. It has done me more good than all the doctors. It is the best medicine ever made for chills and fever." 50c. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Where Fat Is Beauty.

In Tunis when a man wants to take another wife he picks out a girl and then carries to her father a pair of bracelets and a pair of anklets from one of the other ladies of his household. The bracelets and anklets are slipped on the young woman, and several months are allowed for her fattening. She must fatten until she completely fills the four ornaments or otherwise the man has a right to refuse her, for in Tunis fat is beauty, and a permanently slender girl has no chance of marriage.

Lacking in Humor.

Little Robbie was entertaining Mr. Geezeley while Miss Tripperson was upstairs adjusting her back hair and giving her face a few final dabs with the powder puff.

"My sister says you ain't got no idee of humor," said Robbie.

"Indeed!" Mr. Geezeley returned. "When did she say that?"

"Jist after you was here the last time. She said she seen you lookin' at yourself in the mirror several times and you never laughed wunst."—Cleveland Leader.

Wanted—Another Victim.

One day an agent of Fouquier Tinville came to the Luxembourg with a list of victims, drawn up by the accusateur, which contained eighteen names. He collected seventeen of these unfortunates, but could not find the eighteenth. A suspect was passing by, and the agent asked his name. The prisoner declined to give it, and the agent at once handed him over to the gendarmes. Next day the man was guillotined. Another day an agent summoned a prisoner of fifty, but the man did not answer to his name, and a lad of seventeen who was playing at ball was seized, taken to the conciergerie and put to death.

Justified.

"You are charged with having knocked your wife down, blacking both of her eyes and loosening two of her teeth. Have you anything to say for yourself?"

"She had it comin' to her, your honor."

"What did she do or say that could in any way justify such treatment on your part?"

"She said I didn't love her no more."—Houston Post.

Lest We Forget

Baby is restless, can't sleep at night, won't eat, cries spasmodically. A bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge never fails to cure. Every mother should give her baby White's Cream Vermifuge. So many times when the baby is pale and fretful, the mother does not know what to do. A bottle of this medicine would bring color to his cheeks and laughter to his eyes. Give it a trial. Sold by W. WRIGHT MAY BE CANDIDATE

Leader of Prohibition Forces Has Eye on U. S. Senatorship.

Rome, Ga., Oct. 16.—It is currently reported here that Hon. Seaborn Wright will announce for the United States senate one day this week.

Mr. Wright returned to the city a few days ago and since that time has had the matter under advisement with his friends here.

To more than one of them he has stated that he would make definitely known his decision within the next few days.

Upon his return here he found letters from friends awaiting him urging him to say whether or not he would become a candidate as sentiment was beginning to take shape after what was considered, in effect, the announcement that Governor Hoke Smith would not enter the senatorial race.

The announcement of Mr. Wright may be expected before the end of this week, if current reports are well founded.

Big Plantation Sold.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 16.—Captain Edgeworth F. Eve, through local agents, has sold his immense plantation in Columbia county to Charles S. Holenshead, of Washington, Ga. The farm is one of the most magnificent in the state and contains about 5,000 acres of land, with a fine old southern mansion, in as good condition as it was before the war. The purchase price was in the neighborhood of $20,000. The farm is located in the Savannah river valley, about 20 miles above Augusta.

Holy Names Society Parades.

New York, Oct. 16.—Fourteen thousand members of the Holy Name societies in Hudson and Bergen counties participated Sunday in a parade and open air meeting in Hoboken, N. J., as a protest against profanity. Every man in line carried a small flag of the order with white letters "H. N. S.," on a blue back ground, and the sight was an impressive one as they marched along the principal thoroughfares of the city. The houses were decorated with American flags.

Landslide Delays Canal Work.

Panama, Oct. 16.—The American engineers are having trouble with the Cucharacha slide, at the south end of the Culebraeul. This point of land always was a source of trouble to the French when they tried to dig the canal, is again in motion and will prove a hinderance all during the wet season. About half a million yards of dirt is in motion. All of this dirt must ultimately be removed, but the engineers would rather get it slowly than have it pushed on them.

Augusta to Close Beer Garden.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 16.—The Augusta Deutscher Schuetzen club will close up its beer garden with the coming of the New Year, and it will be practically the only resort of this class to be effected by the Georgia prohibition bill in Augusta. At a meeting of the board of control it has been agreed that the extensive grounds of the club shall be converted into a sort of park, and all amusements possible will be added to those already in use.

May Return to the Birch.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 16.—Corporal punishment for refractory boys will probably be inaugurated in the public schools of Savannah soon. At a meeting the board of education showed itself almost unanimously in favor of a resumption of the method in which the child is not spoiled because the rod is not spared. It was determined to take final action at the next meeting. In the meantime the public pulse will be felt upon the subject.

68 Locals Stand Firm.

Atlanta, Oct. 16.—The local striking telegraphers announced Monday night that they had received word from six [illegible] locals, all of which were in favor of continuing on strike. There are in all 135 locals. The remaining eighty-seven locals not yet heard from probably communicate with the Atlanta strikers. No. 3, in St. Louis, reported that they were standing firm.

Sultan's Cash Gone.

Paris, Oct. 16.—In a dispatch from Rabat the correspondent of the Matin says the extremity of Sultan Abdel Aziz is worse than was at first thought. He has only money for three days and if France does not come to his relief financially he will be forced to disband his army and shut himself up in Rabat.

Mexican General Kills Himself.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 15.—Discouraged by ill health, General Ignacio Bravo, commandant of the Bravos division of the Mexican army, committed suicide in his quarters at Juarez shooting himself in the head.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

F. L. S. in Atlanta Constitution.

It Distressed Him.

"Doesn't is distress you, Mr. Wawbawsh, when you notice how much the current slang phrases seem to appeal to so many people nowadays instead of good, pure English?"

"It does, for a fact! Looks like they had the dictionaries skinned a mile!"—Browning's.

The Parson Hedged a Little.

A Billville exchange tells of a preacher who remembered the distinguished ones in his opening prayer as follows:

"And Lord bless the President of the United States, with whom we are personally acquainted; though we don't approve of some things he does!"

Some Georgia Sentiments.

We sigh for happiness, yet we don't believe in it when we meet it in the middle of the road.

The millionaires say poverty is a blessing, yet you never hear any of 'em thanking the Lord for poor relations.

Some folks say they don't hide their light under a bushel, but we have seen it go out compietely after they had imbibed half a pint.

Some of the growlers, if awakened by the last call, would ask Gabriel why he didn't muffle his trumpet.

Scripture for Him.

When Brother Dickey fell into the hands of the tax collector he sighed, and said:

"Truly does de Bible say, 'De way of de tax collector is hard!'"

The Old Reliable.

De hoss show tu'n de hoss plumb fool
Wid de ribbons an' de lines,
But bet yo' money on de Georgy mule
When it comes ter cuttin' up shines!

Word From Br'er Williams.

"De wicked flees w'en no man is pursuin'," said Brother Williams, "an', come ter think of it, it's powerful hard in dis day an' time ter locate de righteous!"

The Irrepressible.

The songs to October are going
The rounds of the leaf-littered earth,
But they're pullin' the lines on November,
And they'll work him for all he is worth!

New Balloon Invented.

Paris, Oct. 16.—The Eclir declares that M. Capezza has invented a combination aeroplane and dirigible balloon capable of carrying five passengers in addition to 20,000 pounds, and staying aloft 15 hours.

A healthy man is a king in his own right; an unhealthy man is an unhappy slave. Burdock's Blood Bitters builds up sound health—keeps you well.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Chronic Ulcers are the result of a deeply polluted and foul blood supply. The blood is filled with impurities and germs which are being constantly fed into the place through the circulation, until all the surrounding flesh becomes diseased and the sore an obstinate and permanent trouble. Every symptom of an old ulcer suggests pollution; the discharge, the red, angry looking flesh, the inflammation and discoloration of surrounding parts, all show that the ulcer is prevented from healing by the constant drainage through it of impurities from the blood. This impure condition of the blood may be hereditary, or it may be the remains of some constitutional disease, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system, or the absorption of the refuse of the body which has not been properly expelled through the natural channels. But whatever the cause, the blood is so weakened and polluted that it does not properly nourish and stimulate the place, and the sore cannot heal. Salves, plasters, lotions, etc., keep the sore or ulcer clean, relieve pain, and perhaps reduce inflammation, but can never permanently heal them because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down to the very fountain-head of the trouble, drives out all poisons and germs, builds up the weak, sluggish blood, gives energy and strength to the system, and by sending a fresh, healthy stream of blood to the diseased parts, allows the ulcer to heal naturally and permanently. Nothing reaches inherited taints like S. S. S. It cleanses the circulation of every trace of hereditary disease or impurity, and those who have nursed and treated an old sore for years will experience good results as soon as the system becomes influenced by S. S. S. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free to all who write.

A LEGEND OF WORMS.

Prophecy of the Jewish Sage and Strange Fulfillment.

Rashi lived during the time of the first crusade, and one of the legends of Worms connects him with the event. He was one day seated with his pupils, when a knight, fully armed, made his way into the school house and with threatening mien addressed him: "Rabbi, thy fame for wisdom has reached me and I have come to learn my fate from thee. I have assembled a host wherewith I purpose to drive the infidel Turk from the Holy City, but before I set out I would know whether my undertaking will succeed. Answer me at once, for I have no time for delay."

The rabbi replied: "How can I learn the future from me? I am wholly unable to foretell it. God alone can say what the future will be. Moreover, I have no powers of divination, and my faith forbids the use of such arts. I am unable to accede to thy request."

"Rabbi," exclaimed the knight in tones of passion, "I will not take your refusal. Well I know that thou canst foretell the future if thou wilt. Tell me truly as I am Godfrey of Bouillon, truly do I promise to protect thee and thy community from all harm, even though thou shouldst foretell disaster to me. But if it is a successful issue that thou hast in store for me I will richly reward thee in addition on my return. What? Art thou silent? Speak, or by heaven my sword shall open thy mouth wide enough."

"My liege lord," answered the Jewish sage, "there is only one above who can penetrate the future. Unless I would deceive thee, which I dare not do, at most I can but venture an opinion of what will happen to thee. Thy undertaking will only succeed in part. Of thy immense host but three men and one horse's head will return in safety." With blanched countenance Godfrey of Bouillon turned to depart, exclaiming as he went, "Take care, Jew, if I return to find thou hast deceived me!" Godfrey of Bouillon went up to Jerusalem, captured it and became its first king.

But his success was short lived, and the tide of war turned against him. Defeat and disease decimated his vast host until there remained but four riders of them all who made their way to Worms. "The Jew has not spoken the truth," he remarked as the gates of the city came in sight. "He said we should return with only three riders and a horse's head. He has lost his reward." They rode up to the gate and demanded admission. The massive door behind was raised, and they passed through. But as the fourth rider was about to follow it fell down again with a heavy thud, decapitating the horse and leaving its trunk and head outside the city. "Conduct me to the rabbi," said Godfrey of Bouillon, "I must see him at once." But the rabbi had long since left Germany.

Knew His Habits.

The following anecdote is given by an Indian officer as illustrative of the manners and customs of the wild Pathan: A certain general and his staff, while wending their way through one of the narrowest valleys of Tirah were annoyed by the attentions of a solitary marksman, who from time to time sent a bullet unpleasantly close. At last the general turned to his orderly—a Pathan sowar—and told him to dismount, take his carbine and try and stalk the mountaineer. The sowar started off, and presently there was a crack and a gray bearded old Afridi tumbled headlong down the mountain side. The sowar rejoined and fell in his place.

"Well done!" said the general. "But how on earth did you manage it so easily?"

"Oh," replied the sowar, "I knew his habits. He was my father." London Truth.

Very Steady.

Relative—Well, I sincerely hope you will be happy with him, Mandy. Is he a steady young man? Miss Mandy—Steady! My goodness, Aunt Jane, he's been coming to see me for more than eleven years.—London Punch.

Regal Magnificence.

"The Muckroyds have a new flat, I believe."

"Yes, and it is something magnificent too. The bathroom is so spacious that it is possible to have two Turkish towels in it at once."—Judge.

A noble heart, like the sun, shows its greatest countenance in its lowest estate.—Sidney.

ABOUT OYSTERS

It's a matter of confidence—confidence in the person selling them. If you know they are handled properly, prepared and cooked cleanly, then you are satisfied.

Oysters require careful attention when away from the coast, and should be prepared by one who knows at a glance if they are fit to be cooked.

For two seasons I have prepared and served you the best Oysters grown, and have never had one complaint.

They are here now—and, as they should be, First-Class in every way.

Open every night till 10:30—later if necessary.

KIRBY SMITH CHAPTER.

Delightful Entertainment Held at Home of Mrs. H. H. McCreary.

One of the most successful entertainments given in this city during the year, both from a social and financial standpoint, was that given by Kirby Smith Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the home of Mrs. H. H. McCreary, 303 East Liberty street, Tuesday evening. It was originally intended to give a lawn fete, but the weather being too cool for comfort, the elegant home was opened to the guests who numbered nearly a hundred.

The entertainment was given for the benefit of the scholarship fund at the University of Florida, and about $40 was realized. The tickets, twenty-five cents, included refreshments of delicious fruit punch, lemonade and wafers.

The hallway was decorated appropriately in U. D. C. colors and miniature flags, while the dining room and punch bowl carried the color scheme of the University. In all, the decorations were quite tasty and attracted a great deal of admiration by those present.

North Gainesville Social

The North Gainesville C. E. Society had a box social Monday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hudson.

While the attendance was not large the evening will be one long remembered by those present. The musical treat and refreshments were characteristic of the hospitality of the host and hostess.

Miss Mamie Wilcox, formerly of this city, arrived yesterday and will spend several days here as a guest of Mrs. J. W. McCollum. Miss Wilcox's friends here are always delighted to greet her. She is quite a favorite in the young society set.

THE ELECTRIC CRATER.

How the Arc Light Is Produced Between the Electrodes.

Everybody knows that an arc light is formed by causing an electric current to pass between the points of two carbon rods. One of these is called the positive and the other the negative electrode, and the current passes from the former to the latter. Particles of carbon are carried on from the positive electrode until its end becomes cup shaped.

To the little cup thus formed the name of crater is applied, and from this crater four-fifths of the light is emitted. The negative electrode does not become so hot as the other. Between the two a little cloud of vaporized carbon is formed, rising from the crater, and this vapor gives forth a golden yellow light. But it is overpowered by the light of the crater itself, which has a violet tinge due to the incandescence of solid particles of carbon. The arc of light extended from one electrode to the other also has an axis of violet color which is the brilliant part. The fact that all the luminosity comes from the crater explains the reason why the light does not appear equal in all directions, but is brightest from that point of view which shows the largest portion of the crater.

An interesting effect is often noted when flies or other insects flutter about an arc light. Their shadows cast on neighboring wall appear gigantic. The reason is that the light of the arc is concentrated in a point smaller than the bodies of the insects, and the boundaries of the shadows consequently widen with increase of distance.—St. Louis Republic.

THE WARRANT CAME.

So They Took the Woman From Her Washtub to the Gallows.

The hanging of a woman, which in these days calls forth public protests, was apparently a matter of indifference to our grandfathers and grandmothers. It was in the nineteenth century that a woman found guilty of some trifling offense was sentenced to death. By chance the warrant for her execution was not sent to the high sheriff, and she remained in prison for about three years, acting as a jail washerwoman and occasionally, as a favor in acknowledgment of her good behavior, going out, as was then the custom, as washerwoman to private houses. But a clerk looking through the home office records found the warrant that had never been dispatched, and it was thereupon promptly forwarded to the sheriff for due process.

The woman was found by the turnkey at the washtub in a house in the town—Aylesbury. "Well, missus," said he, "you are to be hanged. The warrant has come at last, and we must carry the sentence out tomorrow morning at the latest." "Werry well, then," the wretched woman submissively replied, "I suppose I must go," and, having washed the soapsuds off her arms, departed with the official. She was duly hanged the next morning, from all which it would seem that barely a century separates us from a condition of primitive barbarism.—London Chronicle.

Not Good Twice.

Lincoln's stories grew better and better as he grew older. One of the best was told to a visitor who congratulated him on the almost certain purpose on the part of the people to reelect him for another term of four years. Mr. Lincoln replied that he had been told this frequently before and that when it was first mentioned to him he was reminded of a farmer in Illinois who determined to try his own hand at blasting. After successfully boring and filling in with powder he failed in his effort to make the powder go off, and after discussing the cause with a looker on and failing to detect anything wrong in the powder the farmer suddenly came to the conclusion that it would not go off because it had been shot before.

A Point of View.

The new steamer City of —— was laid up for repairs, and one of the rickety old timers of the line was sailing in her place. A passenger who was somewhat irritated by the fact remarked to another, an Irishman, by the way, "The City of —— always gets in at 2 in the morning, and this old tub never gets in before 6."

The Irishman thought for a moment and replied: "It's all right. The distance is just the same, and we get it longer sail for our money."—New York Press.

Needed a Cloudburst.

Staying at an inn in Scotland a shooting party found their sport much interfered with by rain. Still, wet or fine, the old fashioned barometer that hung in the hall persistently pointed to "set fair." At length one of the party drew the landlord's attention to the glass, saying, "Don't you think now, Dugald, there's something the matter with your glass?" "Yes, sir," replied Dugald, with dignity, "she's a gude glass and a powerful glass, but she's no' moved wi' trifles."

FATHER AND SON.

Pathetic Tragedy of the War Between the States.

Not all the sad stories of wartime come from the battlefield. Many a heartbreak is not recorded on the list of the killed and wounded. The civil war knew no more tragic occurrence than the following incident, taken from the New York Sun: A soldier had enlisted from his home in Georgia, where his father remained undisturbed through the struggle. The young man fought through the war without a scratch, save a slight wound which left him a little deaf. This affliction he never mentioned in his letters.

After the surrender he sent his father word that he would reach home about a certain date. Travel then was uncertain, and he could not tell just when he would arrive.

His father prepared to receive him. He had brought out the best plate which had been secreted for a long time, and with gold which had been exhumed he bought such substantials and delicacies as the southern market at that time afforded. As many of the old time neighbors as were living in the vicinity were invited to the home coming.

The young soldier arrived on the plantation the night before the earliest date he had mentioned. It was late, and the family had retired, but the dog heard the noise and began to bark. The sound roused the father, who rose and got his shotgun. The country was overrun at the time with stragglers and sneak thieves. The father, gun in hand, went to the door, saw the approaching figure and challenged it. The young man, being deaf, made no reply, but still advanced, whereupon the father raised his gun and fired. His son fell, shot through the heart.

It was a pitiful sight to see that almost crazed father carrying his lifeless son into the home which had been made ready to welcome him. The next day the guests arrived. Instead of joyously greeting the returned soldier they gazed at the still form, wrapped in the flag for which the young man had bravely fought. Every private burial ground had in it a grave made by the war, but no funeral like that ever took place in the vicinity or possibly in the whole south.

HAILSTONES.

The Part Electricity Is Said to Play In Their Formation.

The formation of hail through electrical action, according to the theory of scientists attached to the weather bureau at Washington, is an interesting and even wonderful process.

The wind draws out a cloud into a long, narrow strip. In that form, owing to the great amount of surface exposed to the air, the cloud evaporates rapidly, and the rapid evaporation produces intense cold. Dry particles of snow are then formed, and these, by friction with the water drops, quickly become charged with negative electricity. But the water drops themselves carry positive electricity, and, since negative attracts positive, a film of water is formed upon each snow particle and is instantly frozen into a layer of ice.

At this thickness its outer surface remains moist, the water not freezing there so rapidly, whereupon the electrical charge changes from negative to positive, and the particle is repelled by the water drops and driven to the outer parts of the cloud. Here the increased cold covers it with snow again, and friction charges it anew with negative electricity. Repulsion is now once more changed for attraction, and the particles rush back into the cloud, receiving upon their surfaces another film of water, which is turned into second ice layers.

Thus the growing hailstone darts zigzag through the clouds, piling up its alternate layers of snow and ice until gravitation gains control and sends it, with a jingling crowd of its fellows, spinning to the ground.—Minneapolis Journal.

The Spanish Duchess.

A duchess enters a shop. Do you imagine she will be more courteously received than a little milliner? Not at all, for both are instantly made at home and treated to the hidalgo's finest manner. But she will never be the less a duchess because she and the shopkeeper are on the best of terms. Her unconsciousness of her rank in everyday relations, which would startle an English duchess, comes from the fact that she belongs to a prouder race. Had she a mind to sport her coronet in a shop the owner and his attendants would speedily make short work of her decorative dignity. To them it would simply mean an underbred and foolish exhibition, for impertinence and vulgar roughness are not defects the Spaniards will tolerate.—Blackwood's.

One Law Secure.

Officer (as autoist flew down hill, his machine beyond control)—Hi, there! You're breaking the law. Autoist (as he whisked from view)—Well, I ain't breaking the law of gravitation.—Harper's Weekly.

ROMANCE OF INN SIGNS.

Some of the Quaint Legends Still to Be Found In England.

There would, indeed, seem to be no limit to the number of quaint inn signs in England. At King's Lynn, in Norfolk, for instance, is to be seen the Honest Lawyer. An old painting is fastened to the wall depicting a lawyer carrying his head in his hand, implying, of course, that no lawyer is honest while his head remains on his shoulders. This is a variation of the better known sign of the Silent Woman, in which a headless woman is represented. The Three Compasses is a frequent sign on French, German and Dutch as well as English inns. The inn of that name in Grosvenor row, Pimlico, was formerly called the Goat and Compasses.

Others have suggested that the sign is a corruption of the puritanical phrase "God encompasseth us." The goat, however, may have been the original sign, to which mine host added his Masonic emblem of the compasses—a likely explanation, seeing that there is a Salmon and Compasses at Petersborough.

The sign of the Cat and the Fiddle is supposed to have originated with the nursery rhyme:

Hey diddle diddle,
The cat and the fiddle.

But other explanations have been offered. One is that it may have originated with certain Caton fidele, a stanch Protestant, in the reign of Queen Mary, and only have been changed into the cat and fiddle by corruption. If this is so it must have lost its original appellation very early, for in 1689 we find "Henry Carr, signe of the Catte and Fidle in the Old Chaunge." The Bull and Gate, in Holborn, at which Tom Jones alighted when he first came to London, probably took its name from Boulogne Gate. The Bull and Mouth—a frequent sign—is a corruption of Boulogne Mouth, and both no doubt were intended as compliments to Henry VIII., who took Boulogne in 1544. An inn at Llandaff once had for its sign the Cock—But, trade getting rather depressed, the landlord thought he would try the effect of a new sign. He accordingly put up a portrait of the bishop of Llandaff and called the house by that name. A rival in the neighborhood thought he saw his way to make fresh customers by this change and straightway altered the sign of his inn to the Cock, with good results. Landlord No. 1, hearing of this, was greatly exasperated, and by way of checkmating his adversary he had painted up under the bishop's portrait, "This is the Old Cock!"

About a mile outside the little village of Tintwistle is an inn bearing the sign the Shepherd Is a Very Quiet Man. A former tenant of the house, which is opposite the lower end of Torside reservoir of the Manchester waterworks, was Joseph Brownhill, known as the Shepherd of Woodhead. He died in 1839, and his portrait still hangs in the front room of the inn, which is locally known as the Quiet Shepherd. This inn can be seen from the Great Central main line and is the property of Lord Tollemache of Helmingham. Near Prestwich is the Same Yet. This was formerly known as the Seven Stars, but a bygone landlord decided to have his sign repainted. When the painters asked what they were to put on the board he replied, "Same yet." And they took him at his word.

At Old Turnford, in Worcestershire, there is a sign which represents a negro in a tub. Two women in white aprons and caps are endeavoring to scrub him white, the whole representing the Labor In Vain. Yet another, in the main street of Dudley, has for a sign the Round of Beef, while somewhere in the south of England is the Devil and Bag o' Nails. And with that I feel I must close my list.—P. T. O. Weekly.

ICEBERGS.

They Are Useful as Well as Grand and Menacing.

When an iceberg is launched upon its long journey its bottom parts are barnacled with sand, bowlders and other detritus gathered from the land surface over which it has made its tedious march to the sea. This burden is gradually cast off as it melts while drifting down along our continental seaboard.

As a result of the deposits thus made through countless centuries, combined with the products of erosion carried seaward by the rivers, the sea bed for many miles off shore has been gradually filled up, creating those vast submerged plateaus, known as "banks," which extend from Labrador to the bay of Fundy and form the breeding grounds of innumerable shoals of cod, herring and other valuable food fishes. In this way the bergs have performed an economic service of incalculable value, laying the foundation for one of the world's most important productive industries and affording a means of livelihood to those hardy bands of "captains courageous" who each year reap the harvests of the sea.

The bergs serve a further economic purpose in that to their tempering influences are largely due the climatic conditions prevailing over a great part of the interior of North America.—Alfred Sidney Johnson in the World Today.

Such Is Fame.

A learned correspondent writes: "I was examining a witness, an elderly woman, the other day. On my inquiring her name she said it was Mrs. Bardell and that she came from Gravesend. I asked, 'Did you know Charles Dickens?' She replied, 'Do you mean the undertaker?' Such is fame." London News.

Make use of time while it is present with you. It depends upon your will and not upon the number of days to have a sufficient length of life.—Montaigne.

A Clever American

A Frenchman, a German, an Englishman and an American were sitting before an open fire, each one telling of the greatness of his native country.

While speaking the Frenchman took from his wallet a dollar bill, rolled it up, touched it to the coals and lighted a cigar with it.

The others were impressed, and soon the German opened his wallet, brought forth a ten dollar bill, rolled it up, touched it to the coals and lighted his cigar with it.

The Englishman thought it very foolish, but he could not be outdone nor have it appear that England was not, as ever, the richest of all, so he calmly took a $100 bill and sacrificed it to light his cigar.

The American looked on in wonder. He hadn't even a dollar bill with him, and yet he knew he represented the leading race of all, which was never outwitted nor outdone by any one or any country, so he quietly drew forth a check book, wrote a check for $10,000 on a prominent New York bank, duly signed it, rolled it up, touched it to the coals and lighted his cigar with it, while his confreres watched him curiously and intently.

Difficulty.

What is difficulty? Only a word indicating the degree of strength requisite for accomplishing particular objects; a mere notice of the necessity for exertion; a bugbear to children and fools; only a mere stimulus to men.—Samuel Warren.

A Little Mixed.

A Hindoo barrister thus excused an absent client whom sickness had prevented from coming to court: "The man has fallen unwell, your honor, and he has sent a man here to say that he is lying and cannot come."

A Theory.

Tommie—Pa, how do storms git out? Toapkins—Get out? What are you driving at—out of what? Tommie—W'y, the weather bureau, o' course. I didn't know but mebby the man left a drawer open.

ABSENTMINDED.

A Story of Bunsen, the Great German Scientist.

In the autobiography of Sir Henry Roscoe there is a capital example of the absentmindedness of Bunsen, the great German scientist.

He had had his evening clothes put out that he might attend a card party to which he had been invited, but forgot all about it until the next morning, when his man pointed out that the evening clothes had not been worn. And then he remarked to himself, "I know what I'll do." That evening he put on his dress clothes, went to the lady's house at the appointed time and walked in as if it were the day upon which he had been invited. The hostess, much too polite to tell him that he had mistaken the evening and that the party had taken place on the previous night, sent to her friends asking them to come in to play a rubber again. They did so. In the course of the evening the conversation turned on absentmindedness, and Bunsen began to tell them what had happened to him a long time ago—how that he had forgotten an invitation and how he had made up his mind to go the next night—and thus he told the party the whole story, forgetting altogether that he was giving them an account of what was happening at the very moment.

Blind to Them.

"Never be critical upon the ladies," was the maxim of an old Irish peer, remarkable for his homage to the sex. "The only way that a true gentleman ever will attempt to look at the faults of a pretty woman is to shut his eyes."

No Chance to Dance

Clara—Coming home from the dance the other night, I met Charlie Spooner in a crowded car, and he didn't offer to give me a seat. Maud—Perhaps he knew you had been sitting down all the evening.—Life.

FLOODS CLAIM LIVES

Distressing State of Affairs Reported From Spain.

30,000 THROWN OUT OF WORK

Village Has Been Terribly Ravaged. Waters Have Washed Out Countless Coffins and Bodies from the Local Cemetery.

Barcelona, Oct. 16.—The flood situation in this vicinity is most serious. Up to the present time five persons have been drowned and 30,000 thrown out of work. The greatest distress is reported from Manresa, the birthplace of St. Ignatius, the founder of Society of Jesuit. The village has been terribly ravaged and the waters have washed out countless coffins and bodies from the local cemetery.

The Guadalmedina river is out of its banks and in this district several old people and children have been drowned.

$30,000,000 WILL CONTEST.

Heirs of Nelson Morris Will Receive $6,000,000 Cash.

Chicago, Oct. 16—The Tribune says that a thirty million dollar will contest that was argued and settled out of court was disclosed when the last testament of Nelson Morris, the packer, was filed for probate.

As a result of this remarkable situation the principal provision of the will has been nullified. Instead of carrying out an arrangement which would have held the bulk of the estate in trust for at least 15 years the widow and her four children will divide the property equally among themselves at once. Insead of $500,000 and an annuity of $15,000 during the next 20 years each, the five principal heirs will receive at once $6,000,000 cash and securities.

Ever since Nelson Morris died nearly two months ago a strenuous though friendly debate over his will has been going on in the family. On one side, seeking to abrogate the trust plan under which they would not have come into their inheritance for from 15 to 20 years, were ranged the widow and three of the children—Mrs. Maurice L. Rothschild, Mrs. Henry C. Schwab and Ira Nelson Morris; on the other side seeking to carry out the provisions of the will under which he would have been in control of the estate, stood Edward Morris, the oldest son and the present head of the Morris Packing corporations. It was simply a case of divergence of opinion.

Finally Edward Morris met the views of the rest of the family and an amicable agreement, setting aside the trust plan and providing for an equal division of the property was signed.

NEW MAYOR INSTALLED.

Remarkable Demonstration at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 17.—Colonel W. R. Crabtree, newly elected mayor of Chattanooga, was formally inaugurater Monday night with one of the most remarkable demonstrations of the kind in the history of the city.

The crowd assembled to honor the incoming official taxed the council chambers and floral decorations were in lavish profusion. According to his doctrine the new mayor advanced in this municipal he will be in his office much of the time and he declared the people are entitled to the executive service of their officials. He denounced the bribe giver as equally criminal with the bribe receiver. He succeeds William J. Frierson, who held the office two years.

Editor Appointed Sheriff.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 16—Horace Hood, editor and part owner of the Montgomery Journal and one of the oldest editors of the Alabama press, has been appointed sheriff of Montgomery county, one of the best paying places in the state. Mr Hood has edited newspapers in Montgomery for many years and is well known in every section of the south. He is one of the Bryan leaders of the south.

SHOT WOMAN AS SHE FLED.

Story of New York's Under World Has Tragic Denouement in Schenectady.

Schnectady, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Suddenly coming upon a woman in a resort here with whom he had lived in New York for three years, a man whose identity is unknown, drew a revolver and, as she turned to flee, shot her in the back, almost instantly killing her.

The victim, who was known as Pearl Harris, had scarcely breathed her last when Chief of Police Rynex, Detective Fuller and Patrolman Ragucci, came upon the murderer in the back room of a saloon. Before they could lay hands on or cover him, he shot Ragucci through the abdomen, and throwing his pistol in the face of Chief Rynex, who was in the act of drawing his revolver, dashed into the barroom. There he grabbed a bottle and fought his way out to the street.

Leaving Detective Cutler to care for Ragucci, Chief Rynex started after the fugitive and chased him into a lumber yard, where he disappeared.

The man has been in the city only a few days, and is known here by the name of "Curly." He was well dressed and seemed to have plenty of money. He has been hanging about the red light district spending money lavishly.

The woman was formerly an actress and lived with a man in New York who, from the description she gave to her acquaintances, is believed to be her slayer.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Bill to Establish Provinces Is Defeated by the Laity.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 16.—The principal event that occurred Monday in the Episcopal convention was the defeat of the so-called archbishop or provinces bill, which has been holding the attention of the house of bishops and the house of deputies for the past two days. The house of bishops passed the measure and the clergy were overwhelmingl yin favor of it. The laity, however, defeated the measure by a nonconcurrence.

At a joint meeting of the bishops and the deputies, the bishop of Mississippi and the bishop of Georgia spoke on the negro question, both contending that the work among the negroes in the southern states had advanced rapidly within the last ten years, and both making earnest pleas that the church continue the work.

The Rt. Rev. Samuel Ferguson, bishop of Cape Palmas, the only negro sitting in either house of the convention, also spoke and made an excellent impression, especially the delegates from the southern states.

The Rev. Dr. Wilkins, of Los Angeles, had passed a resolution forming a commission of ten bishops, fifteen clergymen and twenty laymen to raise a fund of $5,000,000 for the relief of disabled clergy.

Killed on First Auto Ride.

Morenci, Mich., Oct. 16—Arthur Onweiler, a merchant of Lyons, O., bought a new automobile, and was taking his first ride in it with his wife and two children. While driving at fair speed he lost control of the car and it ran into a deep ditch five miles east of here, turning turtle, and crushing him to death beneath it. Mrs. Onweiler and one of the children, a boy, were seriously hurt. The boy will probably injured and has a broken arm.

PICKERS SCARCE; COTTON ROTTING

Growers Offer from $1.25 to $1.75 for Gathering of Staple.

The farmers of the Sea Island cotton belt, irrespective of any particular locality, seem to be "up against it" good and hard this season. Notwithstanding that the crop is reported to be anywhere from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent short throughout the belt, the matter of gathering that of the plant which did mature is proving a difficult problem, according to the report of a number of growers.

Owing to the numerous naval stores and lumber plants in operation throughout this section of the country, all clamoring for labor and paying good wages, it has been a problem to secure pickers, and it was reported here Wednesday that growers are offering from $1.25 to $1.75 per hundred pounds for gathering the staple, and labor is scarce at that. In former years pickers have been accustomed to receive an average of seventy-five cents per hundred for their labor, last year the price going to $1, and in some very unusual instances $1.25 per hundred.

This condition of affairs is laid at the doors of the mill men and turpentine operators, as the growers declare they are responsible. However, these men are not to blame, as they are as badly in need of help as the cotton grower.

There should be no scarcity of pickers at the figures offered, however, as women and children, who are unfit for mill and turpentine work, make admirable cotton pickers. Nevertheless, it is the case that pickers are in demand, the staple in many instances is rusting and rotting in the boll, and the situation at present looks anything but favorable.

KIRBY SMITH CHAPTER.

Delightful Entertainment Held at Home of Mrs. H. H. McCreary.

One of the most successful entertainments given in this city during the year, both from a social and financial standpoint, was that given by Kirby Smith Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the home of Mrs. H. H. McCreary, 303 East Liberty street, Tuesday evening. It was originally intended to give a lawn fete, but the weather being too cool for comfort, the elegant home was opened to the guests who numbered nearly a hundred.

The entertainment was given for the benefit of the scholarship fund at the University of Florida, and about $40 was realized. The tickets, twenty-five cents, included refreshments of delicious fruit punch, lemonade and wafers.

The hallway was decorated appropriately in U. D. C. colors and miniature flags, while the dining-room and punch bowl carried the color scheme of the University. In all the decorations were quite tasty and attracted a great deal of admiration by those present.

AGED NEGRO DEAD.

Glascow Montgomery, Ninety-Six, Expired Suddenly at Kanapaha.

Kanapaha, Oct. 16.—Glascow Montgomery, colored, ninety-six years old, died suddenly at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was well and going about yesterday afternoon. He was brought to this section from South Carolina by the Hailes and belonged to a large family, most of whom were noted for longevity.

He has a brother living at Arredondo, Ephriam Montgomery, now 109 years old.

DEATH OF DR. WALKUP.

Well-Known and Prominent Citizen of McIntosh Passed Away.

Information has reached this city of the death of Dr. H. C. Walkup of McIntosh, which occurred suddenly Wednesday night.

Deceased was apparently in his usual good health upon retiring Tuesday night, but about midnight was awakened with a pain, expiring a few moments afterward.

Deceased was about sixty-five years of age, a native of Virginia, and served in the Confederate army with galantry. He moved to Florida many years ago, however, since which time he has been engaged in his profession and as a druggist at McIntosh.

Deceased was a devout Christian, and few men in the church were more faithful workers for the cause of Christ. He has for years been an elder in the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Walkup is survived by a widow, two daughters and several sons, one of whom is attending a medical college in Baltimore. His sudden death has cast a gloom over the entire community.

The funeral will be held at McIntosh today.

A ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

Two Popular Young People of Marion County Were Married Here.

There was rather a romantic marriage in this city Tuesday morning, which summoned Justice Colman from his warm couch at daylight, and which at least had the tendency to console a couple of young people, the Justice sending them away as man and wife.

J. J. Leitner, a young man who resides near Ocala, and Miss Della A. McCollough, also of that section, traveled all night for the purpose of marriage. Report says that they visited several places in an endeavor to find an officer authorized to tie the nuptial knot, but were unsuccessful until they reached Gainesville, where they secured a license and sought the services of Justice Colman.

The contracting parties are well-known and popular in Marion county, where they have made their home for years. It is not known that there was any particular objection to their union, but with a desire to have the same come off with a slight tinge of romance, this action was taken.

NOLIE SLAUGHTER FREE.

Young Man Accused of Entering Postoffice Released on Bond.

Nolie Slaughter, a well-known young man of the West End who was arrested upon a charge of breaking and entering the United States postoffice building at Wannee a few days ago, has been released on bond, and yesterday returned to his home.

The evidence against young Slaughter must be of a rather flimsy nature, as no particular effort was made to hold him, the United States officers evidently being indifferent in the case.

MELROSE NOTES.

Melrose, Oct. 16.—Quite an old landmark on the Bellamy road was wiped out by fire on Monday night, when the old Goodson house burned down. It was occupied by [illegible] tenants, rented an industrious farmer, who besides his cotton crop had a bale of cotton. His friends, both white and colored, are helping him generously to get a fresh start.

There seems to be a great prospect for many visitors this season, judging from the many letters received inquiring for hotel rates and furnished cottages. The first contingent of our regular winter residents is expected next Tuesday.

W. W. Wilkes has taken a position with A. A. McRae.

The many friends of the Mrs. O. D. Kent will regret to hear that they expect to leave for the North shortly on account of Mrs. Kent's health.

Mrs. Mary Mosely has removed to W. H. Lee's from the Huffman House.

16 PERSONS KILLED

Disastrous Railway Wreck at Shrewsbury, Eng.

CLAIM DISREGARD OF ORDERS

In Darkness and Pouring Rain Train Left Track Rails, Piling the Cars In a Tangled Mass of Wreckage—Did Not Catch on Fire.

Shrewsbury, England, [illegible] train made up of passengers bound from Scotland and England to Bristol left [illegible] was entering the station early hour Tuesday morning.

Sixteen persons, including passengers, were killed and [illegible] were injured.

The London and Northwestern road, on which the train was [illegible] curves sharply as it nears Shrewsbury and there is a standing order that engineers must not exceed a speed of ten miles an hour at that point. Disregard of the order is believed to have been the cause of the accident. The engine and all cars with the exception of the last one left the rails and when the officials from the railroad station reached the spot they were a tangled mass of wreckage beneath which were the bodies of the dead and injured.

Fortunately, the wreck did not catch fire and the doctors and [illegible] which reached the scene, did not [illegible] this added danger to fight in the darkness and pouring rain, which [illegible] ever, [illegible] the work of [illegible] several hours elapsed before the last body was taken out of the wreck.

The killed included the engineer and fireman and the guards and [illegible] clerks who were in the mail car immediately behind the engine.

C. H. McAllister of Irvine is in town on business.

Our school is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Sue D. Feaster will be at home in a few days. She has been off on a summer trip, taking in Washington, Jamestown, Lynchburg and other places of interest.

The new hotel when completed will be up-to-date and will be a credit to our town.

Oranges and grapefruit are coming from this section.

W. R. Abstein of Island Grove is in town and it is said he intends to make his home here. He is a nice young man and we are glad to welcome such people in our midst.

Andrew Smith of Archer was here on a visit to his parents for a few days.

Wanted—Hardwood Timber.

The Brown-Jenings Hardware company of Lake Butler, Florida, is in the market for large quantities of hickory, white oak and ash timber. They offer to buy it either in the log or sawed into planks. Now is the price of pine is off, is a good opportunity for sawmills to get out this lumber in which there is a profit. They offer fancy prices for this lumber. This also affords farmers, who are equipped with teams, a chance to get out logs at a reasonable figure.

Textile Conference Meets.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 16.—The southern textile conference met in the state capitol here Monday morning for the purpose of discussing matters dealing with child and female labor in the shops and factories of the south. Delegates are here from Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina and other southern states. The delegates were welcomed by Governor Patterson.

U. C. V. ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Delegates Also Elected to the Annual State Reunion.

LIEUT. BLITCH IS COMMANDER

Succeeds Commander Horatio Davis, Who Has Served the Camp Faithfully and Efficiently for the Past Year—Adjutant McGrew Retained.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of Stonewall Camp, United Confederate Veterans, was held in this city on Monday, members of the camp coming from every section of the county.

There was a great deal of business transacted at this meeting, among which was the election of officers, and the following was the result:

Lieutenant W. M. Blitch of Santa Fe, commander; John C. McGrew, adjutant.

Lieutenant Blitch succeeds Commander Horatio Davis, who has held the position with distinction, honor and efficiency for the past year. Commander Davis is one of the most widely known and popular of the old Confederate soldiers and his election a year ago was quite a compliment to him. This compliment he has responded to nobly, and no one has cause to regret his term.

Lieutenant Blitch is also a well-known Confederate soldier. No man in the county is more widely known or more popular, and his term as commander will prove of great benefit to the camp.

Captain McGrew was re-elected to the position of adjutant, which he has held for some years. Always faithful and efficient, he has won the admiration of all old comrades, and is keeping it. Captain McGrew has made such a capable officer and adjutant that no one ever thinks of placing a candidate in the field against him.

The delegates of the reunion at Pensacola, which will be held on October 23 and 24, will be W. M. Blitch, John Fennell, J. M. Shaw and V. H. Ellis, with J. J. Barr, J. R. Zetrouer, J. S. Dupuis and D. L. Branning as alternates.

The camp will meet again the first Monday in January.

At the Baptist Church.

Notwithstanding that Rev. S. B. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church, has been in miserable health for the past six or eight months, and that he has only recently become himself again, this distinguished divine is "holding his own," to use the expression, remarkably well, and on Sunday delivered one of the most interesting talks ever heard in the city, taking for his theme the belief in Jesus Christ. Dr. Rogers did not call it a sermon, but just a plain heart-to-heart talk; but he spoke for thirty-five minutes, and what he had to say was of interest to all who heard him.

The music at this service was also good, the work of the sextette being especially fine. The choir has been strengthened by the addition of A. L. Reeder, a bass singer with a good voice, which is a great help. Mr. Reeder, who resided here several years ago but removed to St. Augustine, recently returning to Gainesville, was a member of the Baptist choir during his first residence here.

ECZEMA NEARLY REACHED EYES

Disease Spread Over Whole Body—Face Was in Awful Condition—Itched So that Baby Could Not Sleep—Doctors and Home Remedies Failed—Motner in Despair.

CURED IN THREE WEEKS BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I take great pleasure in dropping you a line to tell you what a Godsend Cuticura Remedies were for my baby. He was suffering from that terrible torture, eczema. It was all over his body in patches, but the worst was on his face and head. His face was awfully bad; the eczema extended up to the lower eyelids and I was just about sick for fear it would get into his eyes before I got it stopped. He cried and scratched all the time and could not sleep night or day from scratching. I took him to the best doctors, and one of them said that he would keep the disease till he got all of his teeth; but if I had depended on the doctors, I guess my boy would have been laid at rest by this time. My friends told me to try many kinds of remedies, and I pestered the child to death with all the different things, but could see no improvement. Finally I got discouraged, and was just about to give up all hope of his ever getting cured, when I read about the wonderful Cuticura Remedies, which came just in time to save my baby from the terrible torture. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and gave him Cuticura Resolvent, and I saw an improvement in three days, and in three weeks his skin was as clear as it could be. That was six or seven months ago, and I have not seen any return of the disease since. I should have written long ago, but I waited to see if it would return. I shall recommend the use of Cuticura from one end of the world to the other. Mrs. Maggie Smith, 314 W. Crosier St., Akron, O., July 24 and Aug. 11, 1906."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60) to Purify the Blood. ORLANDO WEEKS INJURED.

Well Known Waldo Man Had Accident in Jacksonville Saturday.

Information has reached this city to the effect that Orlando Weeks, a well-known citizen of Waldo, became the victim of a peculiar accident in Jacksonville on Saturday of last week which caused him to go to the hospital, where it is said he is still suffering.

It appears that Mr. Weeks, with hundreds of others from various sections of the State, went to Jacksonville to attend Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. In the rush he was shoved down or tripped up in some manner, falling against a broken dog-fennel, the fennel entering his leg and causing an ugly wound, from which he has suffered a great deal.

Friends hope for Mr. Weeks' early recovery, and trust to see him at his home in a short time.

THE COLD WAVE.

Temperature Has Been Low, But Little Damage Has Been Done.

Notwithstanding that there has been a sudden fall in the temperature, the effect of which was supposed to have caused damage to tender vegetation, growers report no damage to the crops as the change was not sufficient to cause any material damage. While young plants wilted under the sudden change, no material damage is reported, and it is expected that the crop will be harvested the same as usual.

The fall of temperature brought the thermometer down to forty degrees, which is the coldest reported. This temperature merely had an effect to reduce the bright green plant to a withered state, but as soon as the sun came out the plants resumed their usual healthfulness.

BACKACHE AND DESPONDENCY

MISS LENA NAGEL

Are both symptoms of organic derangement, and nature's warning to women of a trouble which will sooner or later declare itself.

How often do we hear women say, "It seems as though my back would break." Yet they continue to drag along and suffer with aches in the small of the back, pain low down in the side, dragging sensations, nervousness and no ambition.

They do not realize that the back is the main-spring of woman's organism and quickly indicates by aching a diseased condition of the feminine organs or kidneys, and that aches and pains will continue until the cause is removed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

made from native roots and herbs has been for many years the most successful remedy in such cases. No other medicine has such a record of cures of feminine ills.

Miss Lena Nagel, of 117 Morgan St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:—"I was completely worn out and on the verge of nervous prostration. My back ached all the time. I had dreadful periods of pain, was subject to fits of crying and extreme nervousness, and was always weak and tired. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures Female Complaints such as Backache, Falling and Displacements, and all Organic Diseases. Dissolves and expels Tumors at an early stage. It strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache and Indigestion and invigorates the whole feminine system.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free.

JUDSON JOTTINGS.

Judson, October 15.—Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Weeks of Newberry visited friends and relatives here last week.

Mrs. M. L. B. McKinney has returned to her home here, after visiting her brother, R. P. Miller, at Jonesville, a couple of weeks.

The numerous friends of Charlie Collins are glad to see him able to be on the streets again.

R. S. Tucker and sister, and Miss Estella Miller, attended church at Trenton yesterday.

The ice cream supper which was held at Mr. Chas. McElroy's on last Saturday night was quite a success.

Mrs. John Dykes and daughter, Miss Pearl, of Gainesville, are visiting the former's brother, Mr. W. B. McElroy.

Mr. Daman is in our midst teaching music, or was to be teaching today but has been confined to his room with billious colic. Hope he will soon be all right again.

Bartram School has opened with Miss Henrietta Dyess as teacher. She was in town Saturday afternoon.

Henry Overstreet of Fort White visited his mother, Mrs. J. W. Porter, one day last week.

Mrs. Johnson and son, William, expect to leave tomorrow for Sutherland, where they will visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Wood visited the latter's sister, Mrs. Graham Carter, at Levyville yesterday. They will visit Otter Creek before they return. Mr. Robert Wood has charge of the store while his brother is away.

Mrs. S. E. Sheffield and daughter, Miss Lucilla, formerly of Dutton, have moved here and are making their home at the former's sister's, Mrs. N. A. Dudley. Mrs. Sheffield is in very bad health but her friends hope she will soon be real well again.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL WAS OPENED MONDAY

Big Crowd of Students and Patrons Were Present at Exercises.

SOME INTERESTING TALKS MADE

Exercises Opened by Rev. S. B. Rogers of First Baptist Church, Followed Song. Talk by Dr. Kelley and Dr. Rogers. Answered by Prof Cawthon.

More than four hundred pupils and a large number of patrons of the Gainesville Graded and High School were present Monday morning at the opening, which was begun two weeks later than the announced time. The big auditorium, which is the second largest in the city, was well filled, and the opening hour was awaited with a great deal of interest.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. S. B. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church, who invoked God's blessing upon the principal, the faculty and the school for the coming term.

Dr Rogers' prayer was followed by the singing of Columbia, after which Dr. J. L. Kelley, Superintendent of Public Instruction, who introduced Prof. W. S. Cawthon, made a brief talk. Dr. Kelley paid the highest compliment to Prof. Cawthon, the new principal who is to have the destinies of the school in hand this year, praising him as an educator and a loyal, Christian gentleman.

Before Prof. Cawthon had time to reply Dr. Rogers was again on his feet, and asked the indulgence of his hearers for a few moments. He took this opportunity to also pay Prof. Cawthon a high compliment, stating that he had known him for years in West Florida, and that he knew him to be not only an excellent instructor, but a kind gentleman and a Christian man, and asked the patrons and pupils to co-operate with him and the members of the faculty in making the coming term one of the most successful in the history of the Gainesville Graded and High School.

Prof. Cawthon replied in a happy vein. He assured those who intended patronizing the school that he would do his best, which means that the instruction the coming term, with the assistance of the faculty already appointed, will be all that could be desired.

Immediately after the exercises in the auditorium the school was organized, the various classes and grades being classified and assigned.

The school was adjourned after organization until this morning, when the faculty and students will get down to business.

In speaking of the school and its prospects, County Superintendent Kelley stated that he never felt more encouraged in his life. He realizes and appreciates the worth of the principal of the faculty, and declares at the close of the term the Gainesville Graded and High School will make the finest showing of its existence.

Mr Spriggs May Soon Come.

A letter has been received from Mr. Spriggs, a prominent farmer and justice of the peace of Kansas, in which he incloses the subscription.

Mr. Spriggs, who has been for several years, with one or two exceptions, a resident of Gainesville, writes that he will have the pleasure of mingling with his friends again about the first of the year. He is well-to-do, owns much valuable property in the city and vicinity.

COL. PORTER FROM EUROPE

Had a Most Enjoyable Trip, and Now Back Home in Jacksonville.

Col. Thos. V. Porter, for many years a prominent and successful business man in this city, and who yet owns considerable property here, writes The Sun, in a business letter from Jacksonville, that he has just returned from Europe, after a most enjoyable and beneficial trip. Col. Porter visited many places of interest on the other side of the "big pond," and feels well repaid for his trip in every way.

Negro Baptist Convention.

The convention of the Bethlehem Church, negroes, of Forida, which has been in session with Friendship Baptist church, North Pleasant street, this city, for the past three or four days, finished its work Sunday night, adjourning for the year.

This was one of the largest and most instructive and beneficial conventions of the church ever held in the State. There were present about two hundred delegates, from every section of the State, representing some of the leading Baptist churches of Florida. There were a number of fine speakers in the delegation, and altogether the meeting was a most pleasant one.

The delegates left for their various homes Monday, well pleased with the convention and the treatment received here at the hands of the colored people, of whom they were guests.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

BUFFALO BILL WAS HIS FRIEND

H. E. Benson Spent Pleasant Hour With Showman in Jacksonville.

H. E. Benson of this city spent one of the pleasantest hours of his life Saturday in Jacksonville with Col. W. F. Cody, more familiarly known throughout the world as "Buffalo Bill," of whom Mr. Benson has had the acquaintance for a third of a century. Thirty-three years ago Buffalo Bill made the acquaintance and friendship of Mr. Benson in Worcester, Mass., and this friendship, notwithstanding the long and continued separation, has always been warm and valued on both sides.

Mr. Benson was for many years a detective in Worcester. In 1874 Buffalo Bill, with his Wild West Show, visited the New England town, and while there had the misfortune to have stolen from him a very valuable turquoise pin which had been presented to him by the Duke of Aelxis of Russia, who had seen the masterful work of the scout and so admired him that he gave him this token of his appreciation. The pin was valued anywhere from $2,500 to $3,000, and naturally the great scout did not appreciate the idea of having it taken away from him.

As soon as Buffalo Bill ascertained that he had lost this valuable token, he sent for Mr. Benson, then chief of detectives of Worcester, and who enjoyed the reputation of "getting anything if it was to be gotten," and told him of his misfortune. Mr. Benson, with an air of confidence, told Col. Cody that if his pin was lost or stolen in Worcester it would be returned within a week—and sure enough it was, as the officer got down to business at once, and found the pin in a short time.

"Notwithstanding that Col. Cody was overjoyed to get that token of esteem back," Mr. Benson said in talking over the matter Monday, "he was very anxious to learn where I got it, and how I worked up the case. To be frank, I told him that a little girl picked it up on the street, which was all he could get out of me, and he was content to get the pin, so he was satisfied with this information.

"Col. Cody offered me a liberal reward, but I told him that I was merely doing my duty as an officer, and the fact that I had been successful in restoring his lost jewel was sufficient reward for me. He thanked me a thousand times as he held my hand in his, and made me promise if he ever came within a hundred miles of me again to come to see him as his guest.

"Well, that was thirty-three years ago," continued Mr. Benson, "but I had not forgotten the incident, and I complied with his promise—and I felt right glad I did, for he showed in his heart that he was glad I had come a distance of sixty-nine miles to shake his honest hand—and I feel sure that I would have been with him until now if I hadn't broken away. He could not do enough for me, and really was inclined, it appeared to me, to be 'miffed' when I told him that I realized he had plenty of business of his own on hand and could not afford to be devoting his time to entertaining old friends of a quarter of a century.

When Mr. Benson resigned from the detective force of the city of Worcester he was presented by the police force with a magnificent solid gold ring, which he retains with great pride. It is appropriately engraved with the Masonic emblems and the emblems of the Worcester police, and is a very valuable band.

LETTER TO W. N. WILSON.

Gainesville, Florida.

Dear Sir: If a customer wants $5.50 do you give him $7?

Suppose you should hear of one of your customers doing a thing like that and not knowing it, what would you say next time he wants discount?

We venture half your men are doing that very thing without a suspicion.

Men who paint and other paint that Devoe are paying $7 for $5.50 or some other such figure.

2 gallons Devoe is enough for a good size house two coats. Or 3 or 4 gallons of another paint. There's $5.75 or $11.50 for 1 or 2 extra gallons besides $2 to $4 a gallon for putting it on; that's $7 to $15. That's how half the houses, stores, factories, warehouses, shops, barns, fences are painted. $50 for paint and $25 to $50 more for not knowing what paint to put on.

The one to put on is the paint that takes least gallons and makes least bills for paint and labor.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & CO.

MONEY EXHAUSTED; WORK IS STOPPED

Contractor Beeman Has Stopped Work on Lateral Sewers.

FORCE OF MEN IS NOW IDLE

Contractor Beeman, Observing That There Were No Available Funds at Present, Ordered Force off the Job. A Complicated Situation.

Because of the fact that there is nothing financially in sight to carry out the terms of the contract, work has been temporarily suspended in the laying of the lateral connections for the sewers, and work is now at a standstill for an indefinite period—at least until Contractor Beeman is assured in a substantial manner that his money will be forthcoming from time to time, as the work is completed.

Contractor Beeman, in speaking of the matter Wednesday, stated that he was compelled to lay off a large force of men whom he had employed on the work. "The pay-roll is a big one," he added, "and I cannot afford to keep these men on good salaries and advance the money to pay them off each week without a reasonable assurance that I am going to be compensated in obedience to the contract as made with the Board of Public Works. As soon as this assurance is given me, and I can see something in sight, I will put a gang back on the job."

When the Board of Public Works let this contract for lateral sewerage connections there were only two bidders, and Mr. Beeman, who also installed the sewerage system, was the successful bidder, his estimate being between $6,000 and $7,000. The contract provided that the work was to be completed within six months from the time the contract was signed, but no question of possible financial embarassment was mentioned in the same. This places the whole affair in a rather embarassing situation, but Contractor Beeman maintains that he cannot afford to make further progress until reasonably assured of his money from time to time.

Thus stands the matter, the outcome of which will be awaited with interest.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

L. L. Hill has returned from St. Petersburg and other points in South Florida, where he has been on business for the past few days. Mr. Hill, who has made a thorough investigation of the situation in the section visited, states that he does not believe there will be more than a half or a third of a crop of oranges this year. He is one of the most thoroughly posted men on the orange situation in the State.

W. S. Moore of Hawthorn, State agent for an acetylene gas lighting plant, passed through the city with his men yesterday en route from Newberry, where he has just installed a lighting plant in the Travelers' Hotel. Mr. Moore states that Howell Bros., who are erecting a nice brick block, will also install the acetylene system, which is proving quite popular throughout the country now. While here Mr. Moore had his name enrolled upon the subscription list of The Sun.

H. C. Stevens, the jeweler of High Springs, has an advertisement in this issue to which the attention of our readers is called. Mr. Stevens has been engaged in business in High Springs for several years, during which time he has worked up a fine trade, not only in that town and vicinity, but throughout the entire country. His goods are always reliable, and every article is guaranteed as represented. He owns and conducts one of the most up-to-date jewelry establishments in this section of the State.

Deputy Mason Busy.

Deputy County Judge George Mason, who has charge of the office during the absence of his father, has been quite busy issuing marriage licenses recently, as has been noted in The Sun before.

Within the past two days Mr. Mason has issued licenses to wed to J. J. Leitner and Della A. McCollough, J. R. Bennefield and Bessie L. Robinson, white, and three colored.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

REPUBLICAN BOSSES.

The insincerity of the Republican leaders of Ohio on the reform of abuses and the corrupt use of money in elections is shown by the return of the discredited Boss Cox of Cincinnati to power. He now seems to have complete control again of the Republican machine in Hamilton county, and according to a press dispatch has even gone so far as to dictate the nomination of judges. Judge Ferris, who now occupies the superior bench, states that he and his colleague, Judge Hosea, have been denied renominations because they did not permit Boss Cox to dictate the appointment of a trustee of the Cincinnati Southern railroad.

Congressman Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of President Roosevelt, is evidently content to be part of the Cox machine, and while his strenuous father-in-law is so much exercised over the necessity of defeating Tom Johnson for mayor of Cleveland, who even his opponents agree is capable and honest, the influence of the administration is being used by Son-in-Law Longworth to bolster up the corrupt Cincinnati machine controlled by Boss Cox. How the Republican voters of Ohio can reconcile these anomalies and vote to sustain such evident inconsistencies is beyond belief. There must be enough honest Republicans in Cincinnati who will vote with the Democrats to again depose the corrupt boss, if their partisanship does not get the better of their duty to their city and State, and there certainly will be enough independent voters to reprove President Roosevelt for interference in Cleveland.

PRICES HERE AND ABROAD.

While prices here are rapidly advacing it is comforting to know that in the Panama canal zone there is a reduction in the price of various articles. This interesting information is given in The "Canal Record," the official organ of the Government of the Isthmian canal zone. For instance, granulated sugar in five-pound sacks in August was 23 cents, now it is 20 cents; yellow sugar was 4 cents, now it is 3 cents; Jamaican cigars have fallen in price from 15 to 10 cents. Currants that were 12 cents now can be obtained for 10 cents per pound. The best grade of Central American coffee, formerly 26 cents per pound, is now 24 cents, and another grade that was 23 cents has been reduced to 21 cents per pound. Why prices are declining in Panama and advancing here, the editor of The "Canal Record" does not venture to say. Can it be possible that the sugar trust, the tobacco trust, and the other corporations that plunder the people of the United States by virtue of the trust protecting tariff that our Republican trust-loving politicians refuse to revise, be selling cheaper in the canal zone to the Jamaica negroes and other foreign laborers than to our own people? We pause for a reply.

California has one tree which is the personification of mystery. Found nowhere else in the world, it has a mysterious origin and thrives in a region of mystery. The Mojave yucca is a vegetable freak which has developed into species. It has the characteristics of several plants, to each of which no relationship can be traced. It is an endogen, yet its bark shows concentric rings such as characterize the exogenous stems. It lives and thrives in great numbers in a region nearly devoid of vegetation, in a land o' heat and thirst and barrenness. Another tree in California which has a peculiar personality is the creeping oak of Monterey. Nowhere in the vegetable kingdom can be found so true a representative of monopoly. This tree is of gnarly growth, its limbs, like those of the sycamore, bending and twisting in all directions. Wherever a branch touches the earth it takes root and becomes, as it were, another trunk, though still a branch of the main stem, drawing nourishment both from the parent stem and from the new source. In this manner the tree is spread till it has taken possession of five acres of ground and is still advancing.

The President may be on a bear hunt, but up to date it promises to be a bare hunt, unless he gets one of the varmints in a mighty short while.

Secretary Taft says that we are not going to have war with Japan, and does not even budge on a tree limit.

Washington is becoming aroused over the prospective destruction of several historic trees in the Botanical Gardens of the city. It seems that the commission appointed by Congress to select a site for the proposed memorial to Gen. Grant has selected a spot in the Botanical Gardens at present occupied by what is known as the Crittenden oak and the Beck elm, both grand trees, and of historic interest. Orders were given to fell the trees and work was about to begin when an injunction against the proposed destruction was secured. Speaker Cannon was appealed to, and he responded by telegraphing the acting secretary of war. Everybody connected with the business now seems to be up a tree, so to speak, and the outcome is doubtful. It is believed, however, if the trees can be saved until Congress meets their continued existence and preservation will be safeguarded.

Secretary Straus of the Department of Commerce and Labor has come out strongly for tariff revision. This is something from an administration that has been noted chiefly for its standpatism. But Secretary Straus is in a department where he sees the practical side of the question, and the fact that he has been converted to revision ought to go a good way in satisfying other members of the same party that if we are to continue our commercial expansion we must have something in the way of reciprocity and reduction to offer other countries in exchange for their good will.

One of the best stories ever sent out from Washington followed the departure of President Roosevelt for the Louisiana bear hunt. A day or two after he left it is reported that two large bulls visited the White House yards and took a look around it and the monument grounds. It was even reported that they chased a negro up a tree and kept him there all night. This is a verified fact. But no bulls or any other animals ever dared to take liberties in the White House grounds with Teddy on deck. It is a wise bull that knows his dangers.

Texas is a large timber State. Its forests are one of its greatest resources. Much lumber has been wasted by clearing simply for cultivation. The Texas people are now beginning to realize the importance of conserving this wealth. Some parts of the State are treeless, and tree planting has to be done. In the Panhandle region, in the spring of 1906, over 500,000 trees were set out.

SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE.

What is Causing the Increase of Catarrh in Gainesville?

In spite of the best efforts of medical men, catarrhal troubles are increasing not only in Gainesville, but all over the country.

Catarrh is a germ disease, and to cure it germ life in the breathing organs should be destroyed, and to do this no other treatment has such positive and beneficial action as Hyomei.

When the mucous membrane is irritated and raw and the tissues weakened, there is an ideal lodging place for catarrhal germs. Breathe Hyomei and see how quickly it soothes the membranes, vitalizes the tissues and destroys all the disease germs, rendering catarrh no longer possible.

There is no dangerous stomach drugging when Hyomei is used. No tablets or liquid mixtures destroying digestion.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomei outfit, the healing balsams penetrate to the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, destroying the catarrhal germs so that quick recovery follows.

J. W. McCollum & Co. agree to refund the money to any purchaser of Hyomei who does not find that it does all that is claimed for it. The complete outfit costs but $1.00.

A Painful Accident.

Harry Owens had the misfortune of an accident yesterday which caused the laceration of two fingers on one of his hands and which will no doubt cause a great deal of inconvenience and pain for the next few days.

Harry was working with a mowing machine, when his fingers became entangled with the sharp knives, cutting same severely. With remarkable coolness, however, he had the wounded members dressed, and hopes in a few days to be all right again.

One trial will convince you that will relieve soreness and stiffness quicker and easier than any other preparation sold for that purpose.

It penetrates to the bone, quickens the blood, drives away fatigue and gives strength and elasticity to the muscles.

Thousands use Sloan's Liniment for rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache sprains, contracted muscles, stiff joints, cuts, bruises, burns, cramp or colic and insect stings.

PRICE 25¢, 50¢, & $1.00

REPUBLICANS MAKING PREPARATIONS

National Committee Establishes Office in Washington.

THE SQUADRON STOCKING UP

Preparatory to the Cruise to the Pacific, and Cost Will Be Heavy Owing to Prevailing Prices—Other Notes of Interest.

Special Correspondence The Daily Sun.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—The first meeting of the head officers of the Republican National Committee was held in Washington last week. It was an informal meeting of Harry S. New and Elmer Dover, president and secretary, respectively, of the committee. They have selected headquarters for the committee in one of the big office buildings and the prospect is that the committee will be regularly organized about the time that Congress gets together. There are so many Presidential possibilities and near-possibilities in the field that any move of the committee heads is naturally watched with the keenest interest. President Roosevelt is not only the nominal but the very real head of the party and there was some comment that the work of the committee should have been inaugurated while he was away from Washington. But both Dover and New are two of his "young men" and close personal friends. They had a thorough understanding with him before he went away and it is a safe assumption that whatever is done will be thoroughly in accordance with the President's wishes. Some of the opponents of the Taft candidacy are inclined to take the preliminary action of the committee as a slight upon his position in the party councils, but this is not the case, and it is generally expected that the committee will take action for a Taft reception on his return that will be a striking testimonial to the Secretary of War.

The Navy Department is busy outfitting the battleship squadron for its long trip to the Pacific and is up against the problem of increase in the price of foodstuffs. There will be about 6,000,000 pounds of eatables and drinkables needed by the fleet for the voyage. It is not necessary to go into details as to just what this immense store consists of, though the principal item is fresh meat. Buying in such immense quantities, the Navy Department is able to get of course the very bottom prices and the more so that the furnishings of the supplies is a matter of competition. But it has been found that the general increase in prices has effected even these immense purchases. All the staple articles of food and drink that have to be bought are materially higher than the department has ever had to pay for them before. Even on the great bought in such varieties there was a general advance of a cent a pound. This indicates the general price situation and shows why the householder who buys in comparatively microscopic quantities, has to pay such a heavy increase. The officers of the fleet feel the added cost of outfitting even more than the Government. The material that the Navy Department is buying in is what might be called the rough staples in the way of provisions. Everything in the way of delicacies and luxuries, the officers have to pay for out of their own pockets, and being bought in smaller quantities and privately, the added cost is much greater.

It was announced this week that a new commander has been assigned to the President's yacht, the Mayflower. She has been for two years under command of Lieut. Commander Long, but as he is going with the battleship squadron to the Pacific, a new officer had to be assigned. He is Karl Voglesang, who was with the Presidential party on the recent trip to Panama and who it is said made a good impression on the President then. The command of the Mayflower is more or less a personal appointment with the President, so it is evident that Commander Voglesang has made a good impression.

Whether or no anyone sympathizes with the telegraph strike, one cannot help admiring the new and diplomatic scheme of "slugging" that the striking operators have evolved. However just the original demands of the telegraph operators were, they managed to eliminate most of the sympathy the newspapers would have had for them by attempting to break the leased wire contracts and tie up the news service. The telegraph companies managed to get along without the strikers and the chances are that the strike will die a natural death and the companies and press associations will in time train new men to do the work of the old. But that has nothing to do with the "slugging." This has been a feature of too many of the great strikes in the past, resulting in many of the strike breakers getting beaten, sometimes killed and oftener seriously injured. The sluggers were sometimes convicted, fined and sent to jail, but this scarcely lessened the evil. The striking telegraphers have evolved a new scheme of slugging that results in headaches but no broken heads, and hampers the work of the companies more than if the strike breakers did not return to work at all. It is simply that the "pickets," as the watchers of the strikers are called, lay for the strike breakers as they are going out for luncheon and invite them to lunch to "talk it over." Once safely at luncheon, the strikers are generous. They entertain and furnish liquid as well as cold refreshments. They lunch and talk with the strikers and then lunch some more, and before the unwary operators are aware, they are "loaded for bear" as the saying is, and sent back to work. A drunken operator can do more things with a telegram than an outsider can imagine and the result has been heartbreaking to the companies many times. It may explain to recipients of telegrams a good many things that they did not understand before. But after all, perhaps it is better than physical slugging that ended in the jail, the police court and the emergency hospital.

The War Department is taking a great interest in the coming balloon race at St. Louis. Here on the 21st of this month there will assemble aeronauts from practically all the civilized countries of the world to compete for the international trophy that was won for America last year by Lieut. Lahm in Paris. Of course it is by no means certain that we shall keep the trophy. Luck has almost as much to do with winning a baloon race as judgment. But the interesting point in the affair is that the War Department is taking it seriously and furnishing a squad of trained signal corps men to help the foreigners in their get away work. The Government has not entered a baloon, saying that if by any chance the Government airship should win it might have an inhospitable look to the foreigners. But the War Department is keenly alive to the usefulness of the sport and contemplates doing for America what the English army has just done for Great Britain, namely construct a practical airship that will be a thing to reckon with in case of war. Maj. Hershey, an army officer who has been all the past summer with the aeronaut Walter Wellman in Spitzbergen, has come back specially to take part in the race in his private capacity and not as a representative of the Government. He says that the conquest of the air is not a thing of the future but already an accomplished fact, and he urges that the United States should own a fleet of dirigible baloons second to none in the world. From a purely economic standpoint this sounds reasonable. A steerable baloon costs about $75,000 and a battlehsip costs from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000. One baloon may be lost in its first flight or it may account for a whole squadron of hostile warships. The chance is worth taking as a commercial possibility. It looks as though it were time for this Government to go into the airship business, for we have the men, the money and the enthusiasm and it looks like a paying venture.

Much merriment of a more or less innocent sort has been caused by the "test ride" of a number of Washington army officers who have been up for promotion in the past week. It is the first time in the history of the service that it has not been taken for granted that an army officer who could still walk could also ride. But this is a fallacy, as everyone knows who has seen any mature man holding down an arm chair. The result was that an order was issued three weeks ago for the army officers in Washington who were preparing for physical examination to prepare also for the test ride. Many of them who knew their riding was a bit obsolete did practice in advance and the price of gentle saddle horses at the local livery stable went up several percent. But at the last moment the War Department issued an order that no horses could be used in the ride who did not have a "square unequivocal trot." This so disheartened two of the prospective riders that they dropped out before the ride began, and three others of them had to quit by reason of "physical disability" at the end of the first ten miles. All those who finished the ride were stiff and sore, and several of them will be adversely recommended by the retirement board when they come up for their usually perfunctory examination.

Preparing for No Lockers.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 15.—The indications at present in Macon, Ga., are that there will not be a single social club ready to do business under the locker system when the prohibition law goes into effect next January. In some of the clubs there has been a determination already expressed not to have anything to do with preparations along this line until it is known definitely what is coming. The members of the clubs seem yet to be looking for some way to "turn up" that will change conditions.

J. W. MENIFEE IN SERIOUS TROUBLE

Former Leesburg Agent Arrested on Charge of Grand Larceny.

WAS EMPLOYED BY SOUTHERN

At a Small Station in South Carolina When Arrested by Detective of Savannah—Indictment Returned by Lake County Grand Jury.

J. W. Menifee, well known in this city, where for several years he was connected with the Seaboard Air Line, seems to be in trouble in South Carolina, as will be seen from the enclosed clipping from The Columbia (S. C.) State, of the 14th inst.:

J. W. Menifee, who has been employed by the Columbia division of the Southern railway as agent at Lena, Hampton county, was arrested last night by Detective Murphy at Savannah, Ga., on instructions from the American Surety Company wired him yesterday.

Menifee is held as a fugitive from justice and a warrant will today be issued in Savannah and demand for requisition papers will be made upon the Governor of Georgia, for the purpose of taking him to Florida to stand trial.

Menifee was formerly agent of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad at Leesburg, Fla. On October 2 an indictment was returned by the grand jury in the circuit court at Tavares, Fla., charging him with grand larceny. It is alleged that he stole and carried away a large quantity of valuable merchandise from the railroad warehouse in Leesburg, Fla., through the connivance of his predecessor, Jno. W. Jolly, who was on October 9 convicted under the charge of forgery and sentenced by Judge W. S. Bullock to a term of two years at hard labor in the penitentiary.

The authorities in Lake county, Fla., being unable to find Menifee, who disappeared before he could be indicted, the case was turned over to the American Surety Company of New York, whose detectives finally traced the fugitive to Lena.

While arrangements were being made to have a fugitive warrant issued for Menifee he got a 'tip' from some source and yesterday afternoon suddenly left Lena on Southern train No. 133. The alert detectives of the American Surety Company were advised of Menifee's movement and knew of his plans to leave Lena on the afternoon train several hours before he departed. Detective Murphy of Savannah was communicated with and when No. 133 rolled into the Savannah station there Menifee was promptly placed under arrest and locked up.

He refuses to return to Florida without requisition papers he will be detained at Savannah until these can be secured.

CITY FOOTBALL TEAM.

Met on Seminary Campus Monday Evening and Had Instructions.

The city football team, which was organized by Lieutenant Ball a few days ago, held a practice meeting on the campus of the old East Florida Seminary Monday evening, at which the members of the club, about sixteen in number, received a great deal of valuable instruction. Lieutenant Ball, who is well posted on football, took the pains to explain many points of interest to those present, with the result that everyone felt improved and benefited by their attendance.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, when it is hoped the team will get down to work. The young men are active and ambitious, and desire to accomplish something in football as soon as possible.

Alderman Webster moved that the city employ a street superintendent at a salary not to exceed $60 per month and the street committee be empowered to select and employ the man. Motion carried.

The complaint of Mr. Daughtrey regarding the widening of Arredondo street was referred to the street committee and city attorney to investigate and report.

Alderman Vidal moved to proceed to examine the tax book with a view of receiving same. Motion carried.

Alderman Cannon moved to receive book and sign warrants in back. Motion carried.

Alderman Mixson moved that the assessor be allowed $50 for payment of assistant for work on tax book. Motion carried.

A resolution regarding the assessment on Church and Mechanic streets was read, and upon motion of Alderman Mixson adopted.

Alderman Cannon moved that the city attorney draw an ordinance for the city certificates for $2,375.78, for work done by Mr. Beeman on Main laterals. Carried.

Alderman Vidaf moved ordinance for certificates on Church and Mechanic streets be referred to ordinance committee. Motion carried.

Alderman Vidaf moved to adjourn to meet at 3:30 p. m. October 21. Motion carried.

Lest We Forget

Baby is restless, can't sleep at night, won't eat, cries spasmodically. A bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge never fails to cure. Every mother should give her baby White's Cream Vermifuge. So many times when the baby is pale and fretful, the mother does not know what to do. A bottle of this medicine would bring color to his cheeks and laughter to his eyes. Give it a trial. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

A Wall Street paper says money will be "easy" about the middle of November. Nobody ever heard of it being "easy" about the middle of December.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page Illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

May Find Occupation Gone.

New York, Oct. 15.—Typewriter girls may find their occupation gone if what is said of a new invention turns out to be true. It is exhibited at the business show in progress in Madison Square Garden and is an automatic typewriter run by compressed air and capable, it is said, of writing from 5,000 to 10,000 words an hour for twenty-four hours at a stretch. The inventor is A. McCall, of Columbus, O.

A LEGEND OF WORMS.

Prophecy of the Jewish Sage and Its Strange Fulfillment.

Rashi lived during the time of the first crusade, and one of the legends of Worms connects him with that event. He was one day seated among his pupils, when a knight, fully armed, applied, made his way into the house and with threatening gestures addressed him: "Rabbi, the fame of your wisdom has reached me and I have come to learn my fate from you. The crusaders have assembled a host whereby they intend to drive the infidel Turks from the Holy City, but before I set out I would like to know whether my undertaking will succeed. Answer me quickly, for I have no time for delay."

The rabbi replied that he could not learn the future from the stars, that he was unable to foretell by any means what the future will bring forth, that he could not say what the future will bring forth, that he had no powers of divination, that his faith forbids him to practice any of them. Pray, therefore, do not ask me what I am unable to accomplish."

"Rabbi," exclaimed the knight in tones of passion, "I will not accept your refusal. Well I know that you can foretell the future if you will. I will tell you truly as I am Godfrey of Bouillon truly do I promise to protect you and your community from all harm if you will tell me truly whether or not I shall succeed. But if thou shouldst foretell that my undertaking will only succeed in part, if it is a successful career that you have in store for me I will not only reward thee in addition to the reward in return. What? Art thou afraid? Nay, by heaven my sword shall be thy mouth wide enough."

"My liege lord," answered the Jewish sage, "there is only one power that can penetrate the future. I know that would deceive thee, which I refuse to do, at most I can but venture an opinion of what will happen to thee. Thy undertaking will only succeed in part. Of thy immense host but three men and one horse's head will return in safety." With blanched countenance Godfrey of Bouillon turned to depart, exclaiming as he went, "Take care, Jew, if I return to find that thou hast deceived me!" Godfrey of Bouillon went up to Jerusalem, captured it and became its first king.

But his success was short lived. The tide of war turned against him. Defeat and disease decimated his vast host until there remained but four riders of them all who made their way to Worms. "The Jew has not spoken the truth," he remarked as the gates of the city came in sight. He should return with only three riders and a horse's head. He has no reward." They rode up to the gate and demanded admission. The gate door behind was raised, and they passed through. But as the last was about to follow it fell down with a heavy thud, decapitating the horse and leaving its trunk outside the city. "Conduct me to the rabbi," said Godfrey of Bouillon, "I must see him at once." But the rabbi had long since left Germany.

Knew His Name.

The following anecdote is told of an Indian officer as illustrating manners and customs in Pathan. A certain colonel's staff, while wending their way through one of the narrowest passes were annoyed by the fire of a solitary marksman, who from time to time sent a bullet unpleasantly near. At last the general turned to a Pathan sowar and said, "Dismount, take his cartridges, stalk the mountaineer." The sowar started off and presently there was a crack and a gray body was seen tumbled headlong down the hillside. The sowar returned to his place.

"Well done!" said the general. "How on earth did you manage it?"

"I only knew the fellow's habits. He was my brother."—Youth.

Very Steady.

Relative: Well, I suppose you will be happy with him when he's been a steady young man. Miss Jones: Steady! My goodness! He's been coming to see me more than eleven years.—London Opinion.

Regal Magnificence.

"The Muckroyds have a new servant, believe."

"Yes, and it is something magnificent too. The bathroom is so spacious that it is possible to have two Turkish towels in it at once."—Judge.

Deputy J. M. Martin arrived in the city yesterday from Wilcox, having in charge Nolie Slaughter, a white man charged with breaking and entering the postoffice at Dunnellon on last night. A United States officer is expected to come to take charge of the prisoner today.

W. A. Sr., has returned from [illegible] where he went to spend Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Chas. A. [illegible] Mrs. Ellis is in Waldo, where she has been for the past few days visiting Mrs. Marks. Mr. Ellis is a Democrat, and says it's the finest thing that ever happened" in Florida.

Miss Maude Lewis, one of the efficient members of the faculty of the Graded school, after spending Saturday and Sunday here, has returned to her duties. Miss Lewis was in charge of the primary department at Gainesville Graded and High school last year, and proved herself a most popular and efficient teacher. She will be missed by the students of her class at the school this year.

Geo. W. Hyde, after an absence of several weeks in Colorado, Nevada and other points in the West where he is interested in mining, has returned to his home in this city. Mr. Hyde has made a great success in mining, having been fortunate enough to secure some good stock in the most prolific gold mines of the West. He reports satisfactory returns from his investments.

George I. Doig, superintendent of the Gainesville Gas and Electric Power Company, has returned from Hot Springs, Ark., where he has been for the past three or four weeks for the benefit of his health. Mr. Doig has been suffering from rheumatism and for some time his condition was very poor. He is greatly improved now, however, and will be enabled to resume his duties. Friends are glad to note the great improvement.

J. W. Gleason of Jefferson, Ohio, who spent last winter in this city and made many friends, writes from Sheboygan, Mich., that he is now interested in a moving picture show, and that fortune is crowning his efforts. "Uncle Jake," as he was familiarly known here, asked to be remembered to all his friends, and says he hopes to see them in a few weeks. He was very popular here among those with whom he associated, being possessed of a most genial, entertaining disposition.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

C. W. Wells, a well-known citizen of Alachua, was in the city on business yesterday.

Mrs. A. T. Kelley and baby of Rochelle were among those who favored Gainesville with a visit yesterday.

Mrs. John Dykes and daughter, Miss Pearl, are spending a few days at Judson, guests of the former's brother, W. B. McElroy.

D. W. Mathis of Lake City was a visitor to this city yesterday. He called at The Sun office and had his name enrolled on the subscription list.

Friends of Mrs. J. A. Beall, who has been quite ill with appendicitis, will be glad to learn that she is greatly improved, and expects to be up in a short time.

Wm. Jones of Alachua was in the city yesterday. Mr. Jones is a prosperous merchant of that town, and also has a responsible position on the road as traveling salesman.

Patrick Bass of Jennings Lake and L. L. Stringer and J. G. Saunders of Bell were in the city yesterday on business connected with the United States land office. They paid The Sun an agreeable call.

N. R. Mixson of Flemington has arrived in the city, and has accepted a position as salesman at the store of G. S. Merchant & Co. Mr. Mixson is a hustler, and will make a valuable acquisition to the store.

Friends of W. E. Dow, who has been spending the summer with relatives and friends in South Carolina, will regret to learn that his condition is not as favorable as was reported a few days ago, he seeming to have a back-set.

M. H. McClamrock, chief dispatcher of the Atlantic Coast Line, has returned from a visit to his old home in Springfield, Missouri. During his absence the position was filled by W. E. Bigdon, one of the best train dispatchers in the country.

Wade Thomas of Monteocha was in the city yesterday. Mr. Thomas is building a new house which will be a modern country home in every respect. The home is almost completed and he expects to occupy it with his family in about two weeks.

Mrs. Fannie E. Brown of Auburndale, who has been here on a visit to her cousin, Mrs. J. E. Holmes, for the past few days, left Saturday for New York, from where she will sail for Paris. She was accompanied as far as Jacksonville by Mesdames George Reed and Geo. P. Morris.

John B. Goodman, brother of C. F. Goodman, a prominent merchant of Macsey, Ga., has arrived in the city and will make his future home here. He will be associated with the C. F. Goodman Company as bookkeeper and stenographer, and it is hoped he will be well pleased with the city and his position.

Avery G. Powell and Misses Essie and Ethel Groover of Lake Butler were in the city for a short time yesterday. They were en route to Cedar Key, where they will visit relatives and friends for a few days. Mr. Powell is the versatile editor of The Lake Butler Star, one of the best weeklies in the State.

B. H. Levy, Bro. & Co., Savannah, the reliable furnishers of men's, women's and children's clothing, hats, etc., have an advertisement in this issue to which the attention of all is called. This firm has been advertising with The Sun and doing business with the people of this section for years, and always with the highest degree of satisfaction.

Rev. E. W. Way, for several years pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city and who is now holding a similar position in Fernandina, was in the city for a few hours Monday. He was en route to Archer, where he is attending the Sunday School Institute and the session of the Presbytery of the Suwannee. Mr. Way's numerous friends were glad to welcome him here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frasier of Alachua, parents of Miss Lila Frasier, who is suffering from the effects of an operation for appendicitis at the Odd Fellows' Sanitarium, have returned to their home, after a brief visit here. Friends of Miss Frasier, who is the principal of the Arredondo school, will be glad to learn that her condition is greatly improved, and the chances are she will be enabled to resume her duties in a few days. The patrons of the Arredondo school think a great deal of her, and have sent a messenger daily to keep posted on her condition.

Rev. S. B. Rogers has completed a tennis court on the lawn of his home in East Gainesville, and now desires to turn it over to the young people of the city. He is anxious that they shall avail themselves of this opportunity to learn and enjoy this most fascinating and beautiful game. It is desirable that each one should purchase and own their own racket, yet if anyone wishes to play who has no racket, come on anyway. Mr. Rogers has the full tennis set and will lend you a racket. Court will be open all day, Mr. Rogers only requiring of those who play that they conduct themselves as ladies and gentlemen.

Joseph Tinsley, the clever and efficient State representative of the E. R. Brock Company, produce commission merchants, New York, left yesterday for points in South Florida, where he will remain for the next few days in the interest of his house. Mr. Tinsley did not desire to be quoted, but stated that the orange crop the coming season would be far short of the figures which have been given by some of those who would have the people of the State think the output would be a large one. He is well posted, having been over the orange-producing section of the State, and knows what he is talking about.

From Thursday's Daily Sun:

Information comes to friends in this city by private letter to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Huffman, recently married here and who are spending their honeymoon at Tampa, are pleasantly located with Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Carpenter, at their elegant home in Hyde Park. They expect to return to their home in Gainesville within the next two or three days.

In most cases consumption results from a neglected or improperly treated cold. Foley's Honey and Tar cures the most obstinate coughs and prevents serious results. It costs you no more than the unknown preparations and you should insist upon having the genuine in the yellow package. J. W. McCollum & Co.

C. H. Baguley of Holder, bookkeeper for the Dutton Phosphate Company, has arrived in the city, and is suffering at the Odd Fellows' Sanitarium from an attack of typhoid fever. His mother, Mrs. R. Baguley, who was in Springfield, Ill., was notified by wire, and is now en route to his bedside. It is hoped by friends of the young man that he will soon have a change for the better.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Warner and daughter, little Miss Mary, have returned from a pleasant visit to St. Petersburg, Clearwater, and other points in South Florida, where they have been for the past few days. Mr. Warner states that he had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Steenburg and Mr. Steenburg's mother in St. Petersburg, and that they appear to be enjoying their visit very much.

Henry E. Jones of Tampa, Fla., writes: "I can thank God for my present health, due to Foley's Kidney Cure. I tried doctors and all kinds of kidney cures, but nothing done me much good till I took Foley's Kidney Cure. Four bottles cured me, and I have no more pain in my back and shoulders. I am 62 years old, and suffered long, but thanks to Foley's Kidney Cure I am well and can walk and enjoy myself. It is a pleasure to recommend it to those needing a kidney medicine. J. W. McCollum & Co.

THE ELECTRIC CRATER.

How the Arc Light Is Produced Between the Electrodes.

Everybody knows that an arc light is formed by causing an electric current to pass between the points of two carbon rods. One of these is called the positive and the other the negative electrode, and the current passes from the former to the latter. Particles of carbon are carried on from the positive electrode until its end becomes cup shaped.

To the little cup thus formed the name of crater is applied, and from this crater four-fifths of the light is emitted. The negative electrode does not become so hot as the other. Between the two a little cloud of vaporized carbon is formed, rising from the crater, and this vapor gives forth a golden yellow light. But it is overpowered by the light of the crater itself, which has a violet tinge due to the incandescence of solid particles of carbon. The arc of light extended from one electrode to the other has an axis of violet color which is the brilliant part. The fact that most of the luminosity comes from the crater explains the reason why the arc does not appear equal in all directions, but is brightest from that point of view which shows the largest part of the crater.

An interesting effect is often noticed when flies or other insects fly near an arc light. Their shadows cast upon neighboring wall appear gigantic. The reason is that the light of the arc is concentrated in a point smaller than the bodies of the insects, and the boundaries of the shadows consequently widen with increase of distance.—St. Louis Republic.

THE WARRANT CAME.

So They Took the Woman From Her Washtub to the Gallows.

The hanging of a woman, which in these days calls forth public protests, was apparently a matter of indifference to our grandfathers and grandmothers. It was in the nineteenth century that a woman found guilty of some trifling offense was sentenced to death. By chance the warrant for her execution was not sent to the high sheriff, and she remained in prison for about three years, acting as a jail washerwoman and occasionally, as a favor in acknowledgment of her good behavior, going out, as was then the custom, as washerwoman to private houses. But a clerk looking through the home office records found the warrant that had never been dispatched and it was thereupon promptly forwarded to the sheriff for due process.

The woman was found by the turnkey at the washtub in a house in the town—Aylesbury. "Well, missus," said he, "you are to be hanged. The warrant has come at last, and we must carry the sentence out tomorrow morning at the latest." "Werry well, then," the wretched woman submissively replied, "I suppose I must go," and having washed the soapsuds off her hands departed with the official. She was duly hanged the next morning, for all which it would seem that barely a century separates us from a condition of primitive barbarism.—London Chronicle.

Not Good Twice.

Lincoln's stories grew better and better as he grew older. One of the best was told to a visitor who congratulated him on the almost certain prospect on the part of the people to elect him for another term of four years. Mr. Lincoln replied that he had been told this frequently before, and that when it was first mentioned to him he was reminded of a farmer in Illinois who determined to try his hand at blasting. After successful boring and filling in with powder he failed in his effort to make the powder go off, and after discussing the matter with a looker on and failing to discover anything wrong in the powder the farmer suddenly came to the conclusion that it would not go off because it had been shot before.

A Point of View.

The new steamer City of ——— laid up for repairs, and one of the rickety old timers of the line was doing in her place. A passenger was somewhat irritated by the boat and remarked to another, an Irishman, by the way, "The City of ——— always gets in at 2 in the morning, and this one never gets in before 6." The Irishman thought for a moment and replied: "It's all right. The distance is just the same, and we don't care a cent for our money."—Boston Herald.

Needed a Cloudburst.

Starting at an inn in Scotland a shooting party found their sport interfered with by rain. Stopping at the old fashioned barometer hung in the hall persistently at "set fair." At length one of the party drew the landlord's attention to the glass, saying, "Don't you know, Dugald, there's something the matter with your glass?" "Na, na," replied Dugald, with dignity, "yon's a guide glass and a powerful glass tha's na' moved wi' trifles."

FATHER AND SON.

Pathetic Tragedy of the War Between the States.

Not all the sad stories of warfare come from the battlefield. Many a heartbreak is not recorded on the list of the killed and wounded. The civil war knew no more tragic occurrence than the following incident, taken from the New York Sun: A soldier had enlisted from his home in Georgia, where his father remained undisturbed through the struggle. The young man fought through the war without a scratch, save a slight wound which left him a little deaf. This affliction he never mentioned in his letters.

After the surrender he sent his father word that he would reach home about a certain date. Travel then was uncertain, and he could not tell just when he would arrive.

His father prepared to receive him. He had brought out the best plate which had been secreted for a long time, and with gold which had been exhumed he bought such substantials and delicacies as the southern market at that time afforded. As many of the old time neighbors as were living in the vicinity were invited to the home coming.

The young soldier arrived on the plantation the night before the earliest date he had mentioned. It was late, and the family had retired, but the dog heard the noise and began to bark. The sound roused the father, who rose and got his shotgun. The country was overrun at the time with stragglers and sneak thieves. The father, gun in hand, went to the door, saw the approaching figure and challenged it. The young man, being deaf, made no reply, but still advanced, whereupon the father raised his gun and fired. His son fell, shot through the heart.

It was a pitiful sight to see that almost crazed father carrying his lifeless son into the home which had been made ready to welcome him. The next day the guests arrived. Instead of joyously greeting the returned soldier they gazed at the still form, wrapped in the flag for which the young man had bravely fought. Every private burial ground had in it a grave made by the war, but no funeral like that ever took place in the vicinity or possibly in the whole south.

HAILSTONES.

The Part Electricity Is Said to Play In Their Formation.

The formation of hail through electrical action, according to the theory of scientists attached to the weather bureau at Washington, is an interesting and even wonderful process.

The wind draws out a cloud into a long, narrow strip. In that form, owing to the great amount of surface exposed to the air, the cloud evaporates rapidly, and the rapid evaporation produces intense cold. Dry particles of snow are then formed, and these, by friction with the water drops, quickly become charged with negative electricity. But the water drops themselves carry positive electricity, and, since negative attracts positive, a film of water is formed upon each snow particle and is instantly frozen into a layer of ice.

At this thickness its outer surface remains moist, the water not freezing there so rapidly, whereupon the electrical charge changes from negative to positive, and the particle is repelled by the water drops and driven to the outer parts of the cloud. Here the increased cold covers it with snow again, and friction charges it anew with negative electricity. Repulsion is now once more changed for attraction, and the particles rush back into the cloud, receiving upon their surfaces another film of water, which is turned into second ice layers.

Thus the growing hailstone darts zigzag through the clouds, piling up its alternate layers of snow and ice until gravitation gains control and sends it, with a jingling crowd of its fellows, sprinting to the ground.—Minneapolis Journal.

The Spanish Duchess.

A duchess enters a shop. Do you imagine she will be more courteously received than a little milliner? Not at all, for lofty airs instantly made at home are treated to the hidalgo's finest contempt. But she will never be the less a duchess because she and the shopkeeper are on the best of terms. The real business of her rank in aristocratic relations, which would stupefy the little duchess, comes from the fact that she belongs to a prouder race. Has she a mind to sport her coronet among shop the owner and his attendants would speedily make short work of her decorative dignity. To them it would simply mean an undertood and foolish exhibition for impertinence and vulgar frankness are not defects the Spaniards will tolerate.—Black Woods.

One Law Secure.

Officer (as autoist flies down hill, his machine beyond control)—Ill there! You're breaking the law. Autoist (as he whirls from view)—Well, I ain't breaking the law of gravitation.—Puck's Weekly.

ROMANCE OF INN SIGNS.

Some of the Quaint Legends Still to Be Found In England.

There would, indeed, seem to be no limit to the number of quaint inn signs in England. At King's Lynn, in Norfolk, for instance, is to be seen the Honest Lawyer. An old painting is fastened to the wall depicting a lawyer carrying his head in his hand, implying, of course, that no lawyer is honest while his head remains on his shoulders. This is a variation of the better known sign of the Silent Woman, in which a headless woman is represented. The Three Compasses is a frequent sign on French, German and Dutch as well as English inns. The inn of that name in Grosvenor row, Pimlico, was formerly called the Goat and Compasses.

Others have suggested that the sign is a corruption of the puritanical phrase "God encompasseth us." The goat, however, may have been the original sign, to which mine host added his Masonic emblem of the compasses. A likely explanation, seeing that there is a Salmon and Compasses at Peterborough.

The sign of the Cat and the Fiddle is supposed to have originated with the nursery rhyme:

Hey diddle diddle,
The cat and the fiddle.

But other explanations have been offered. One is that it may have originated with certain Caton fidele, a simple Protestant, in the reign of Queen Mary, and only have been changed into the cat and fiddle by corruption. If this is so it must have lost its original appellation very early, for in 1589 we find "Henry Carr, signe of the Catte and Fidle in the Old Change." The Bull and Gate, in Holborn, at which Tom Jones alighted when he first came to London, probably took its name from Boulogne Gate. The Bird and Mouth—a frequent sign—is a corruption of Boulogne Mouth, and both no doubt were intended as compliments to Henry VIII., who took Boulogne in 1544. An inn at Llandaff once had for its sign the Cock. But trade getting rather depressed, the landlord thought he would try the effect of a new sign. He accordingly put up a portrait of the bishop of Llandaff and called the house by that name. A rival in the neighborhood thought he saw his way to make fresh customers by this change and straightway altered the sign of his inn to the Cock, with good results. Landlord No. 1, hearing of this, was greatly exasperated, and by way of checkmating his adversary he had painted up under the bishop's portrait, "This is the Old Cock!"

About a mile outside the little village of Tintwistle is an inn bearing the sign the Shepherd Is a Very Quiet Man. A former tenant of the house, which is opposite the lower end of Torside reservoir of the Manchester waterworks, was Joseph Brownhill, known as the Shepherd of Woodhead. He died in 1839, and his portrait still hangs in the front room of the inn, which is locally known as the Quiet Shepherd. This inn can be seen from the Great Central main line and is the property of Lord Tollemache of Helmingham. Near Prestwich is the Same Yet. This was formerly known as the Seven Stars, but a bygone landlord decided to have his sign repainted. When the painters asked what they were to put on the board he replied, "Same yet." And they took him at his word.

At Old Turnford, in Worcestershire, there is a sign which represents a negro in a tub. Two women in white aprons and caps are endeavoring to scrub him white, the whole representing the Labor In Vain. Yet another in the main street of Dudley, has for a sign the Round of Beef, while somewhere in the south of England is the Devil and Bag o' Nails. And with that I feel I must close my list.—P. T. O. Weekly.

Frenzied Arithmetic

Teacher—Now, Tommy, if your father had twenty dozen eggs in his store and found that eighteen of them were bad, how much would he lose? Tommy—Nothin'. I guess you don't know pa.—School Board Journal.

ICEBERGS.

They Are Useful as Well as Grand and Menacing.

When an iceberg is launched upon its long journey its bottom parts are barnacled with sand, bowlders and other detritus gathered from the land surface over which it has made its tedious march to the sea. This burden is gradually cast off as it melts while drifting down along our continental seaboard.

As a result of the deposits thus made through countless centuries, combined with the products of erosion carried seaward by the rivers, the sea bed for many miles off shore has been gradually filled up, creating those vast submerged plateaus, known as "banks," which extend from Labrador to the bay of Fundy and form the breeding grounds of innumerable shoals of cod, herring and other valuable food fishes. In this way the bergs have performed an economic service of incalculable value, laying the foundation for one of the world's most important productive industries and affording a means of livelihood to those hardy bands of "captains courageous" who each year reap the harvests of the sea.

The bergs serve a further economic purpose in that to their tempering influences are largely due the climatic conditions prevailing over a great part of the interior of North America.—Alfred Sidney Johnson in the World To-day.

Such Is Fame.

A learned correspondent writes: "I was examining a witness, an elderly woman, the other day. On my inquiring her name she said it was Mrs. Bardell, and that she came from Gravesend. I asked, 'Did you know Charles Dickens?' She replied, 'Do you mean the undertaker?' Such is fame."—London News.

Make use of time while it is present with you. It depends upon your will and not upon the number of days to have a sufficient length of life.—Montaigne.

A Clever American.

A Frenchman, a German, an Englishman and an American were sitting before an open fire, each one telling of the greatness of his native country.

While speaking the Frenchman took from his wallet a dollar bill, rolled it up, touched it to the coals and lighted a cigar with it.

The others were impressed, and soon the German opened his wallet, brought forth a ten dollar bill, rolled it up, touched it to the coals and lighted his cigar with it.

The Englishman thought it very foolish, but he could not be outdone nor have it appear that England was not, as ever, the richest of all, so he calmly took a $100 bill and sacrificed it to light his cigar.

The American looked on in wonder. He hadn't even a dollar bill with him, and yet he knew he represented the leading race of all, which was never outwitted nor outdone by any one or any country, so he quietly drew forth a check book, wrote a check for $10,000 on a prominent New York bank, duly signed it, rolled it up, touched it to the coals and lighted his cigar with it, while his confreres watched him curiously and intently.

Difficulty.

What is difficulty? Only a word indicating the degree of strength requisite for accomplishing particular objects; a mere notice of the necessity for exertion; a bugbear to children and fools, only a mere stimulus to men.—Samuel Warren.

A Little Mixed.

A Hindoo barrister thus excused an absent client whom sickness had prevented from coming to court: "The man has fallen unwell, your honor, and he has sent a man here to say that he is lying and cannot come."

A Theory.

Tommie—Pa, how do storms git out? Tompkins—Get out? What are you driving at—out of what? Tommie—W'y, the weather bureau, o' course. I didn't know but mebby the man left a drawer open.

ABSENTMINDED.

A Story of Bunsen, the Great German Scientist.

In the autobiography of Sir Henry Roscoe there is a capital example of the absentmindedness of Bunsen, the great German scientist.

He had had his evening clothes put out that he might attend a card party to which he had been invited, but forgot all about it until the next morning, when his man pointed out that the evening clothes had not been worn. And then he remarked to himself, "I know what I'll do." That evening he put on his dress clothes, went to the lady's house at the appointed time and walked in as if it were the day upon which he had been invited. The hostess, much too polite to tell him that he had mistaken the evening and that the party had taken place on the previous night, sent to her friends asking them to come in to play a rubber again. They did so. In the course of the evening the conversation turned on absentmindedness, and Bunsen began to tell them what had happened to him a long time ago—how that he had forgotten an invitation and how he had made up his mind to go the next night—and thus he told the party the whole story, forgetting altogether that he was giving them an account of what was happening at the very moment.

Blind to Them.

"Never be critical upon the ladies," was the maxim of an old Irish peer, remarkable for his homage to the sex. "The only way that a true gentleman ever will attempt to look at the faults of a pretty woman is to shut his eyes."

No Chance to Dance.

Clara—Coming home from the dance the other night, I met Charlie Spooner in a crowded car, and he didn't offer to give me a seat.—Maud—Perhaps he knew you had been sitting down all the evening.—Life.

The gifted man is he who sees the essential point and leaves all the rest aside as surplusage.—Carlyle.

Who Pays For Your Printing?

Poor printing is a detriment to any buisness, and is an unprofitable investment. Poor printing is usually paid for twice—once when you settle with the printer, and again in the injury it does your business.

GOOD PRINTING PAYS FOR ITSELF!

In the added business it brings, in the complete satisfaction you feel in sending out neat, tasty stationery, and its first cost is soon on the credit side of the ledger. Good printing is remembered long after the price is forgotten.
